Viet Peace Plan Offered; Fate Of Fliers Eyed

SAIGON (AP) — The South Viet Nam government, with apparent U.S. blessing, today offered to end the war and begin talks toward reunification of North and South if the Viet Cong is disbanded and North Viet Nam withdraws its troops from the South.

Fears for the fate of American fliers captured in North Viet Nam increased with reports from Peking and Prague that the North Vietnamese ambassadors there had said the airmen would be tried as war criminals.

While U.S. officials and members of Congress warned in Washington of tough American response to mistreatment of the airmen, the North Vietnamese news agency published a letter by President Ho Chi Minh to American Socialist leader Norman Thomas promising humane treatment of the captives.

Thomas said he wrote Ho July 13 warning Ho that execution of U.S. fliers would have "disastrous effects" on efforts to expand the peace movement in the United States.

Ho replied: "Thank you for your message. No doubt you know that the policy of the government of Viet Nam with regard to the enemies captured in war is humanitarian one. Wish you good health."

Pope Paul VI followed U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and other world leaders in an appeal on behalf of the captured fliers. The pontiff told his weekly general audience at Castel Gandolfo, outside Rome, he felt obliged to ask the North Vietnamese government to "furnish those prisoners the safety and treatment provided by international rules, in each case applying those forms favorably and justifiably."

The military junta's "all or nothing" offer to end the war came on the 12th anniversary of the 1954 Geneva agreements ending French rule in Indochina and dividing Viet Nam. The occasion is officially observed in South Viet Nam, which refused to sign the accord, as a "day of shame."

The government said it would ask for the withdrawal of all foreign troops from the country if Hanoi (1) withdraws its guerrillas and agents, (2) dissolves the National Liberation Front and disbands the Viet Cong, and (3) "respects the spirit of the Geneva agreements."

If these conditions are met, the statement said, "the U.S. and South Viet Nam bombings in the North will immediately stop. The government and people of South Viet Nam will ask allied forces to withdraw from South Viet Nam so as to let the population of both areas decide for themselves and at the same time rebuild the nation in peace and security."

Simultaneously, North Viet Nam repeated its four-point peace package: (1) Withdrawal of all U.S. troops and material and an end to acts of war against the North; (2) Pending reunification, a ban on any alliance by either side with a foreign power; (3) Settlement in South Viet Nam "in accordance with the program" of the National Liberation Front, which means Communist terms, and (4) Reunification without foreign interference.

Reds Find Mark With One Shot

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam fired off a record 29 Soviet-made missiles Tuesday during heavy American air attacks near Hanoi and one of the rockets found its mark, the U.S. command reported.

One U.S. jet was lost to a surface-to-air missile and another was shot down by a Communist MIG-17 in a dogfight 20 miles north of Hanoi, a spokesman said. American pilots claimed damage to three MIGs but saw none go down.

In the ground war, U.S. jets and artillery pounded Communist positions in the jungles of the Song Ngon Valley just below the 17th Parallel frontier as 7,000 American Marines and South Vietnamese troops carried Operation Hastings into the sixth day. The main target of the aerial barrage was Hill 208, site of numerous bunkers and foxholes. A spokesman said 11 bunkers had been destroyed or damaged.

Ground fighting appeared to have tapered off against units of the North Vietnamese division which intelligence says recently infiltrated across the six-mile-wide demilitarized buffer zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

The Marines reported 332 Communists killed and the probable deaths of 549 more. A Leatherneck battalion had borne the brunt of the fighting left the field.

In the only heavy engagement Tuesday reported by the U.S. military command, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division killed 51 Viet Cong in the Ho Bo Woods 21 miles northwest of Saigon. The U.S. command said the American company suffered heavy casualties.

The enemy force, in an unusual appearance in camouflaged uniforms and steel helmets, advanced within 15 yards of the U.S. infantrymen before being (Continued on Page 2)

Dirksen Says Trials For Fliers To Raise Ire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen says that even if no executions are ordered, "the American people will want to go whole hog" against North Viet Nam if Hanoi puts captured U.S. pilots on trial.

Views similar to that expressed by the Senate Republican leader at a news conference Tuesday were reflected in statements by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

Cooper said any violation of the Geneva prisoners of war convention by North Viet Nam "could provoke responses which would increase and increase into total barbaric conflict." Hanoi signed the convention in 1957.

Rhodes Attending Governor Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes went to Washington for a meeting today, but kept in close touch with his office here about the racial situation in Cleveland.

Rhodes talked by telephone three times with his top aide, John McElroy, before leaving for Washington, where he will join governors of other Midwestern states for a meeting to protest any toll increase on the St. Lawrence Seaway and for a luncheon.

At the luncheon the governors will further explore possible unified efforts to get federal action on such things as changes in welfare programs. Rhodes, chairman of the Midwestern Governors Conference, had led a movement for the chief executives to join in seeking action from Washington on common problems involving their states.

Texas Area Shaken

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — An apparent earth tremor, sharp enough to wake many sleeping people, shook parts of the Texas Panhandle about 3 a.m. today but there were no reports of damage.

Dr. Norcross said Speck complained of chest pains, was restless and was trying to sleep. He said tests would be conducted today and Thursday to determine Speck's condition.

Dr. Norcross reported Speck's chest pains at a hearing Tuesday in the felony division of Circuit Court.

He said Speck was depressed during the confrontation with Miss Amurao and remained depressed after she left.

The City Jail Hospital administrative director, C. William Ruddle, said Miss Amurao, dressed in a nurse's uniform, was taken by Dr. Norcross to Speck's room.

Ruddle said Dr. Norcross spent five minutes examining Speck as Miss Amurao stood behind him. Dr. Norcross did not observe the girl's reaction, he said, nor did he hear her say anything.

New Crisis Looms in Air Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13-day airline strike approached a crucial showdown today with a union maneuver that threatens to stretch the costly, crippling walkout another two weeks.

The decision of the striking Machinists' Union to take a "vote of confidence" among all 35,000 strikers in some 30 cities if there is no contract agreement today stunned top federal officials and negotiators for the five grounded airlines.

The only hope for shortening the strike that has already taken much of the joy and the money out of the nation's peak summer tourist season apparently lay in government pressure to win a settlement before the union's 5 p.m. EDT deadline.

That left just seven hours from the opening of today's talks at 10 a.m.

A union vote without an agreement between company and union negotiators is virtually certain to reject the last airlines' proposal, sources in the talks said. And negotiations would cease during the week it would take to conduct the balloting.

Negotiations with United, National, Eastern, Northwest and Trans World airlines would have to begin all over again if the union members voted no.

Solons Okay Law To Curb Undue Vehicle Noise

A law designed to clamp down on drivers prone to making unnecessary noise with motor vehicles was enacted Tuesday night by Circleville Council.

The ordinance spells out specific violations and lists fines that will be imposed on violators. It supersedes other city provisions governing the vehicle noise violation.

Sponsored by Councilman John Jenkins, the measure is intended to curb all phases of unnecessary noise created by vehicles. This includes squealing of tires on pavement and undue accelerating or stopping, unless the disturbance is created by an emergency.

Excessive racing of motors that causes loud noises also is defined in the new law. The regulations apply to automobiles, trucks, motorcycles or other type motor vehicles.

PERSONS found guilty of violating the ordinance shall be fined not less than $10 or more than $50 on first offense. Subsequent violations could mean a fine of not less than $50 or more than $100.

In other legislative action, the solons adopted a resolution authorizing a contract for mutual aid fire protection. The reciprocal type pact involves Cir-

Once Around Roundtown

NO COMPLAINTS have been registered today against the weatherman . . . Most Roundtowners were enjoying the pleasant 80 degree weather under sunny skies . . .

Fair skies and daytime temperatures in the 80s are expected to remain, at least, through Thursday . . . The predicted low for early tomorrow is 50-54.

A BRIEF shower was recorded here Tuesday evening although areas south of the city "didn't get a drop" the weatherman noted.

AT LEAST four Circleville Councilmen made a hasty departure during Tuesday night's meeting . . .

It started to rain about 9 p. m. . . . Because the sun was still shining when the session convened at 8, several left car windows rolled down . . .

The solons quickly returned to the meeting, with slightly wet shirts . . . Keith Wagner was the last to get back . . . He had left his convertible top down.

SPEAKING of weather, council is still seeking some kind of a cooling system for their City Hall chambers . . . Two air conditioner bids have been obtained from local firms . . .

The council room also serves as Municipal Court headquarters and as a meeting place for other city functions . . . A decision to install or not to install probably will come at a later meeting.

Police Say Woman Lies about Attack

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Mrs. Betty Ruth Ross, 28, returns from visiting relatives in Georgia, she faces more police questioning about the man who allegedly tried to strangle her.

Sgt. Russell Jackson of the homicide squad said Tuesday Detectives learned Mrs. Ross, mother of four, lied when she told officers she did not know the man involved in the July 7 police report.

Jackson said the man involved in the report had dated Mrs. Ross' mother-in-law and was a former mental patient.

Total Answer 'Not Poverty'

National Guard Sent In To Patrol

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Negro leader says deep frustration provoked the two days of rioting in the Hough Avenue area which left two dead, scores injured and widespread destruction from fire and looting.

Betram E. Gardner, executive director of the Cleveland Community Relations Board, said Tuesday, "I don't know" when asked what triggered the riots, but added:

"The real provocation is deep frustration . . . deeper than housing or jobs. Those people who demonstrate in Hough can't handle their emotions as some of the others do."

Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who asked for and received National Guard help, held an emergency two-hour meeting at City Hall Tuesday with Gardner and Ezra Shapiro, co-chairman of the relations board.

"There must be remedial steps taken to bring about cessation and the slackening of the pace of tension," Locher said.

Gardner said the war on poverty is not a failure in the Hough area, "but the war on poverty is not the total answer. He said the riots reflect "a deterioration of the total community."

One Negro man was shot to death Tuesday night amid wild disorders.

Widespread shooting, looting, and firebombing by Negroes raged for four hours in the slums where a woman was killed by gunfire Monday night. Violence eased about midnight.

Gov. James A. Rhodes called up 1,500 troops and declared Tuesday night that "a state of tumult, riot and other emergency" prevailed in Cleveland.

Only a few hundred soldiers had reached the area by midnight. They patrolled in jeeps carrying machine guns.

In a proclamation signed in Columbus, Rhodes commanded lawless elements to halt the rioting. He said more guardsmen would be sent in if needed — on request of authorities here.

The grim tally after the se-

Jacksonville Negro Area Gets Curfew

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Bands of vandals gave Jacksonville a second straight night of racial violence that was quelled only after police placed a curfew on a Negro business and residential area.

Police Sgt. J. T. Lowe said 12 persons — all Negroes and mostly teen-agers — were arrested. Many minor injuries were reported from the sporadic attacks by small bands.

Mayor Louis H. Ritter, who sounded out Gov. Haydon Burns Tuesday about calling out the National Guard if necessary, said city police were able to handle the situation, with the help of some state troopers.

"As long as it gets no worse we can handle it," Ritter said, adding that he would ask for troops in event of a riot.

Fires caused $1,000 damage to a laundry and unspecified damage to a grocery. Police said both were believed to have been set by homemade fire bombs.

Firemen reported that youths threw rocks at them as they fought the laundry blaze.

SAIGON (AP) — The South
Viet Nam government, with apparent U.S. blessing, today offered to end the war and be-of North and South if the Viet from the South.

Fears for the fate of Amerithat the North Vietnamese

While U.S. officials and mem-

Washington of tough American response to mistreatment of the Ho replied: "Thank you for your message. No doubt you ple of South Viet Nam will ask

Simultaneously, North Viet Nam repeated its four-point peace package: (1) Withdrawal of all U.S. troops and material and an end to acts of war against the North; (2) Pending reunification, a ban on any alliance by either side with a for-means Communist terms; and

(4) Reunification without foreign interference.

Landslide Scares Sicilian Town

AGRIGENTO, Sicily (AP) —

sent 10,000 more residents flee-

So far, the city's chief tourist west third of the city, which is on a hill three miles inland from Sicily's south coast.

Ten buildings, some of them new apartment houses eight to ten stories tall, have collapsed since the gradual earthquake be-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.
Everett M. Dirksen says that even if no executions are ordered, "the American people will want to go whole hog" against North Viet Nam if Hanoi puts captured U.S. pilots on trial.

Views similar to that expressed by the Senate Republican leader at a news conference Tuesday were reflected in statements by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., and John Sherman Copper, R-Ky.

Cooper said any violation of the Geneva prisoners of war convention by North Viet Nam "could provoke responses which would increase and increase into total barbaric conflict." He said the convention in 1957.

"The possibility of a trial of these prisoners, and the unknown ultimate results of such a trial, should shock the conscience of the world and ought to lead every country in the world to express its condemnation," Cooper said.

Mansfield retained hope that the Communists will not go through with their threat to try the captured Americans as war criminals.

But he said "Hanoi should recognize the feeling in this country, both among its citizens and its Congress, on this matter and consider the consequences."

Kuchel said the Hanoi regime would "bring down the wrath of the world" if it tries the Americans.

Dirksen said if such trials are held the world can expect to be assaulted with a taped radio-television barrage of propaganda.

Survivor of Massacre Identifies Killer, Belief

CHICAGO (AP) — The dark-haired, dainty nurse looked at the sinewy man accused of calmly killing eight of her friends.

Richard Speck, 24, was in a bed at the City Jail Hospital, pale from a loss of blood through self-inflicted cuts in his arms.

He may have been further weakened, doctors said, by a heart attack which he may have suffered shortly before his face-to-face meeting with the nurse Tuesday.

Was he the same man who had managed to subdue, gag, bind and then kill eight young student nurses early Thursday?
Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse who escaped the fate of her roommates by rolling under a bed and praying as they were led, one by one, to their deaths, was there to answer that question.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune in today's editions both said Miss Amurao had identified Speck as the intruder.

However, the state's attorney's office refused to give information on the confrontation or to comment on the newspaper reports.

Dr. William N. Norcross, the city jail physician, said in a medical bulletin that Speck may have suffered a heart attack shortly before the incident.

"There is an 80 per cent chance that Richard Speck suffered a coronary thrombosis sometime prior to 10 a.m. today (Tuesday)," Norcross said.

"Complete rest has been ordered as well as no interviews or visitors for the next 48 hours.
The patient cannot be moved,"
he said.

Dr. Norcross said Speck complained of chest pains, was restless and was trying to sleep.

He said tests would be conducted today and Thursday to determine Speck's condition.

Dr. Norcross reported Speck's chest pains at a hearing Tuesday in the felony division of Circuit Court.

He said Speck was depressed during the confrontation with Miss Amurao and remained de-

The City Jail Hospital administrative director, C. William Ruddle, said Miss Amurao, dressed in a nurse's uniform, was taken by Dr. Norcross to Speck's room.

Ruddle said Dr. Norcross spent five minutes examining Speck as Miss Amurao stood behind him. Dr. Norcross did not observe the girl's reaction, he said, nor did he hear her say anything.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13-day airline strike approached a crucial showdown today with a union maneuver that threatens to stretch the costly, crippling walkout another two

The decision of the striking Machinists' Union to take a "vote of confidence" among all 35,000 strikers in some 30 cities if there is no contract agreement today stunned top federal officials and negotiators for the mer tourist season apparently lay in government pressure to win a settlement before the union's

That left just seven hours from the opening of today's

A union vote without an

Solons Okay Law To Curb Undue Vehicle Noise

A law designed to clamp down on drivers prone to making unnecessary noise with motor vehicles was enacted Tuesday night by Circleville Council.

The ordinance spells out specific violations and lists fines that will be imposed on violators. It supercedes other city provisions governing the vehicle noise violation.

Sponsored by Councilman John Jenkins, the measure is intended to curb all phases of unnecessary noise created by vehicles. This includes squealing of tires on pavement and undue accelerating or stopping, unless the disturbance is created by an emergency.

Excessive racing of motors that causes loud noises also is defined in the new law. The regulations apply to automobiles, trucks, motorcycles or other type motor vehicles.

PERSONS found guilty of violating the ordinance shall be fined not less than $10 or more than $50 on first offense. Subsequent violations could mean a fine of not less than $50 or more than $1,000.

On other legislative action, the solons adopted a resolution authorizing a contract for mutual fire protection. The reciprocal type pact involves Circleville and the cities of Washington C. H., Chillicothe and Columbus.

The aid contracts will be in effect for three years. The resolution serves as a renewal of agreements already in force between the four cities.

An ordinance appropriating $1,100 for maintenance of City Service Department equipment was approved. The money will be used for repair of vehicles and other service gear.

Two resolutions, one pertaining to transfer of old Ohio-Erie Canal land to the city and the other to release of performance bond for two sections in Garden City, were held to second reading.

The canal land would be transferred to the city by the state if council is willing to accept.
However, D. E. Goodchild who holds leases on several tracts in the area, has requested the solons reconsider. He said the land is necessary to his construction business facilities there, and a factor in keeping his firm within the city.

A protruding catch basin lid problem apparently is holding up release of the performance bonds. Spokesmen said efforts are being made to correct the situation.

Police Say Woman Lies about Attack

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Mrs. Betty Ruth Ross, 28, returns from visiting relatives in Georgia, she faces more police questioning about the man who allegedly tried to strangle her.

Sgt. Russell Jackson of the homicide squad said Tuesday Detectives learned Mrs. Ross, mother of four, lied when she told officers she did not know the man involved in the July 7 police report.

Jackson said the man involved in the report had dated Mrs.
Ross' mother-in-law and was a former mental patient.

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Negro leader says deep frustration provoked the two days of rioting in the Hough Avenue area which left two dead, scores injured and widespread destruction from fire and looting.

Betram E. Gardner, executive director of the Cleveland Community Relations Board, said Tuesday, "I don't know" when asked what triggered the riots, but added:

"The real provocation is deep frustration . . . deeper than housing or jobs. Those people who demonstrate in Hough can't handle their emotions as some of the others do."

Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who asked for and received National Guard help, held an emergency two-hour meeting at City Hall
Tuesday with Gardner and Ezra Shapiro, co-chairman of the relations board.

"There must be remedial steps taken to bring about ces-pace of tension," Locher said.

Gardner said the war on pov-

the riots reflect "a deterioration of the total community."

One Negro man was shot to death Tuesday night amid wild disorders.

Widespread shooting, looting, and firebombing by Negroes raged for four hours in the slums where a woman was killed by gunfire Monday night.

Gov. James A. Rhodes called up 1,500 troops and declared Tuesday night that "a state of

Only a few hundred soldiers had reached the area by mid-

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The effects of a strike by some 850 city employees were felt quickly in this city of 265,000, with many garbage cans already overflowing.

The strike began Tuesday when most members of the 1100-member Dayton Public Service Employees Union defied a court order and walked off their jobs.

The city's 58 garbage trucks sat idle, the city incinerator was closed and one pumping station in the sewer system was shut down because of the manpower shortage. The closing of the pumping station forced the city to discharge raw sewage into the Miami River.

Sheriff's deputies tried unsuccessfully Tuesday to find three union leaders and serve them with court orders to attend a hearing today. The union officials, if present, would be asked in court to show cause why the union should not be held in contempt for its strike.

Common Pleas Court Judge
Carl D. Kessler issued a restraining order Monday prohibiting the strike. City officials requested the order, citing a state law that forbids work stoppages by public employees.

The union struck after the city refused to re-open negotiations on wages in its current contract, which expires next Jan. 1. The wages run from $98 a week for laborers to $148 for heavy machinery operators.

Exccessive Horn Tooters Classified

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Public safety officials have drawn up four classifications for motorists who use their horns excessively:

The boxers — aggressive types who think all traffic space should be reserved for themselves.

The fearful — use horns in every situation.

The lazy — want to free themselves from all responsibilities once they have honked at the other fellow.

Sinatra, Mia Honeymoon After Quickie Marriage

Exactly where they went hasn't been determined.

Sinatra, 50, flew from London to New York and from there to Las Vegas, landing two hours before the wedding Tuesday. Miss Farrow flew in from Los Angeles in another of his company jets. The marriage is the first for the 21-year-old star of television's "Peyton Place."

The marriage ceremony took about four minutes. District Judge William Compton officiated at the single-ring rite in the hotel apartment of Jack Entratter, Sands president and long-time friend of Sinatra.

A week ago Miss Farrow's

mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan, widow of movie director John Farrow, had announced that the wedding would be sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas. The timing apparently caught friends and relatives by surprise. The family of neither was present.

Sinatra was first married to the former Nancy Barbato, who bore his three children: Frank Jr., now 21, Nancy, 24, and Christina (Tina), 17. Like their father Frank Jr. and Nancy are singers.

Sinatra remains on good terms with his first wife, whom he married in 1939. She was awarded custody of the children after divorcing him in 1951.

Instead of waiting for her decree to become final, which takes a year in California, Sinatra got a Nevada divorce in Las Vegas to clear the way for his marriage to actress Ava Gardner. They were divorced after two stormy years.

Audio Clinic Starts Here On Thursday

A hearing clinic has been scheduled to begin 9 a. m. Thursday at Corwin St. School. It was announced today by Mrs. Pauline Kirkpatrick, city health nurse.

The clinic was scheduled when a health program established in Circleville Schools under Title 1 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act revealed that hearing was one of the key health problems for students.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick announced 23 youngsters have been scheduled for the clinic.

A team consisting of an otologist, audiologist, speech and hearing therapists and a pediatrician will give the youngsters referred to the clinic complete examinations.

The entire cost of the clinic is financed by the State Department of Health, Mrs. Kirkpatrick said.

County To Get More Tax Money Under Revision

With the annual revision of municipal tax duplicates in the state, Pickaway County will be one of 34 counties receiving an increased allocation of local government money, it was announced by Roger Cloud, state auditor.

In 1966, the county received $4,135.95 monthly. In 1967, the county will receive $4,297.23, beginning with the July distribution.

The distribution, which amounts to $2 million monthly statewide, is paid out of sales tax collections.

At the same time, Cloud said that 32 counties will receive cuts while 22 other counties will receive the same monthly minimum allocation of $3,333.33, or $40,000 per year, as fixed by law.

When the legislature provided for the distribution of the $24 million local government fund, a few years ago, a formula was set up whereby 75 per cent was paid upon the basis of the municipal tax duplicate within each county in proportion to the state-wide total of such municipal duplicates, and the remaining 25 per cent was based upon population as shown by the federal census.

While the federal census figure remains unchanged for ten years, the tax duplicates are subject to change annually.

Judge Nominees Get Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate judiciary subcommittee approved today President Johnson's nomination of John W. Peck, now a U. S. district court judge for Southern Ohio, too be a judge of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Also approved after a brief hearing was the nomination of Joseph P. Kinneary, now U. S. district attorney for Southern Ohio, to the district court bench for the same district.

At the hearing, presided over by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche and Rep. John J. Gilligan, Ohio Democrats, testified in support of both Peck and Kinneary.

U.S. Noses Counted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau estimates the resident population of the U.S. on June 1 was 195,695,000. It said another 973,000 Americans work overseas.

North Storm Sewer Project Reviewed by City Council

Aspects of the proposed Circleville North Storm Sewer project were reviewed in detail Tuesday night by City Council.

Offering a progress report on the project were Frank Baum of the Burgess & Niple consulting engineer firm and E. R. Bennett who is working on the assessment and easement phase of the program.

Council authorized Baum to negotiate with Robert Elsea concerning acquisition of an easement. A considerable length of the sewer line would cross the Elsea property, located outside the city.

According to Baum, matters still to be solved in regard to the Elsea land include tap-in rights that may or may not be granted the property owner and maintenance of a ditch that would be an essential factor in the sewer function once it is completed.

COUNCILMEN, attempting to look at all legal aspects of the project, leaned toward purchase of an easement from Elsea. They reviewed another alternative of gaining a gratis right-of-way and provisions for free tap-in rights if the property owner desires them.

An actual easement purchase probably would mean the city could charge Elsea for tap-in privileges, council spokesmen noted.

Baum was directed to seek the most equitable and fair method in obtaining the easement in regard to both Elsea and the property owners that will be assessed for cost of the project. The Elsea land, since it is outside the city, is not subject to assessment.

Total cost for the proposed northend drainage program has been estimated at about $175,000. The city's share has been listed at approximately $21,000, with the remainder to be paid by benefited property owners.

Additional water drainage matters were brought to council's attention. Solon Robert Turner reported problems exist on Huston St. and along the southern extremities of Maplewood Ave.

Turner said the front of the Harry Davis residence on Huston St. is plagued with surface water when it rains. Davis, present to explain his problem, said the flooding has been caused by a higher elevation of Ralston Purina's nearby warehouse and the resurfacing of Huston St. last year by the city.

COUNCIL, promising the problems on Huston St. and Maplewood Ave. will be investigated, referred both to the Service Committee.

Legal Ban Against Klan Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach spoke out today against legislation proposed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities to curb the alleged terrorist activities of the Ku Klux Klan.

Contending that the bill presents constitutional difficulties, Katzenbach told the committee a provision of the proposed 1966 Civil Rights Act might be the "wiser response" to the "very real problems" posed by the Klan.

The attorney general said there are "constitutional difficulties and problems with some aspects" of the bill drafted by the committee and its chairman, Rep. Edwin Willis, D-La. The committee bill, Katzenbach said in his prepared testimony, "might unnecessarily complicate prosecution of the perpetrators of such violence" because of "the organizational and conspiracy concepts upon which the bill is based."

Katzenbach doubtless had in mind the complete lack of success that has greeted Justice Department efforts to enforce laws to curb the activities of the U.S. Communist party and require Communists to register with the U.S. government.

His prepared testimony for the House committee was unusually brief. Of its 15 paragraphs, the first 12 were devoted to praising the work of Willis' panel in its investigation of the Klan.

Willis has predicted quick House approval of the legislation after his committee allows two days for hearings.

Grass Fire Checked

Children playing with matches ignited grass in a vacant lot on Fairview Ave. at 1 p. m. Tuesday, Circleville Firemen reported today. There was no damage reported.

the lawmakers adopted a tentative city budget for 1967. No objections were submitted against the proposal during a hearing conducted at the outset of last night's meeting.

General fund receipts for 1967 have been estimated at $302,360.44. However, departmental budget requests for the year amounted to $367,283.

The proposed budget will now be certified to the County Auditor for subsequent inspection by the Pickaway County Budget Commission.

In view of the anticipated deficit, various departmental requests probably will be trimmed unless additional income is secured. A final budget for the coming fiscal year will be acted on by council at the end of 1966.

Three Negroes, including two wounded by gunfire, were taken to a hospital Tuesday night. A white man was admitted with an eye injury. A Negro youth was treated for a forehead cut from a flying brick.

"It's just black against black — that's all they're doing," moaned a Negro shop owner sitting guard at his place. But it also was Negro against policeman much of the time.

"I hate police," blurted Willie Jones, a Negro, after he heard a friend tell of being beaten by police on the first night of the rioting.

At an intersection in the worst trouble spot, Percy Giles, 36, of suburban Cleveland Heights fell at 8:55 with a bullet in the back of the head.

There was no official report of who shot Giles. A Negro man at the scene said the shooting came after bottles were hurled at police cars. A crowd of Negroes milled around.

Police fired their weapons.

"They shot him! They shot him!" cried some of the Negroes. "This is too much!"

Troopers Pulled Off Patrol in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — National Guardsmen were pulled off patrols of the West Side Tuesday night and the area which was the scene of rioting by Negroes last week went through a quiet night.

It was the first night since the National Guard was activated Friday that the troops were not sent into the area to aid police in controlling outbreaks of violence.

29 Missiles

U.S. pilots flew through the record barrage of missiles Tuesday to bomb six oil depots and other targets in North Vietnam. The previous high number of SAMs sent up was 16, on July 5.

In the past 15 days, U.S. pilots have spotted at least 90 of the 36-foot "flying telephone poles," but the plane lost Tuesday was the first in the period credited to a missile. The success of U.S. airmen in eluding the rockets is attributed to effective flying tactics and electronic jamming of the missiles' radar guidance systems.

During the raids in the North Tuesday three MIG17s pounced on a flight of U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and shot down one of the American planes. Other Thunderchiefs joined the dogfight near the Ps Phuc Yen airfield 20 miles northwest of Hanoi, and a U.S. spokesman said they damaged all three of the attacking MIGs with cannon fire.

The other U.S. plane lost was a Navy F8 Crusader. A U.S. spokesman acknowledged it was down by a missile from the ground 23 miles south-southeast of Hanoi during an attack on the Co Trai bridge.

Stock Mart Weakens

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market weakened slightly following news today of Britain's new austerity measures aimed at supporting the pound sterling. Trading was moderate early this afternoon.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's announcement of the new program came as the stock market had apparently recovered from its latest case of jitters over Viet Nam. The market was mixed and quiet.

The news from London brought on some additional selling but no great change in the market atmosphere.

Drugs erased most of their small early gains. Losses increased slightly among airline, motor and rails which had been losers before the news came.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 316.7 with industrials off 1.6, rails off .9 and utilities off .5. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.12 at 881.95.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A final audit by State Auditor Roger Cloud reported today that the combined distribution of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license fees to the state's political subdivisions climbed to a record $156.6 million during the 1966 fiscal year. He said motor vehicle revenues distributed totaled more than $93.1 million, and gasoline taxes more than $63.4 million.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A report issued today by the National Education Association shows that Ohio State University was the fifth largest producer of new teachers in the United States in 1965 and was a leading graduate center.

The report showed OSU's College of Education graduated 1,233 bachelor's degree holders in 1965 to trail behind leader Michigan State, San Jose State, Southern Illinois and Western Michigan.

SEATTLE (AP)—The Boeing Co. has received a government contract to look into ways of making the sun shine at night.

The $125,000 award is for a study of the feasibility of orbiting a huge satellite to reflect light from the sun on to the dark side of the earth.

The award was made Tuesday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which made a similar award to the Westinghouse Corp.

WASHINGTON (AP) —Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, has introduced a bill designed to prevent planned picketing of the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception when Luci Johnson is married there Aug. 6.

Hays' bill would ban picketing within 500 feet of any church building in the District of Columbia. A group opposed to the Viet Nam war has announced plans to picket the church on the wedding day.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House Conference Committee has reached agreement on a compromise plan to spend more than $4.2 billion on the civilian space program this fiscal year. The agreement is expected to win final congressional approval later.

Nearly $3 billion of the total would go into the U.S. effort to land a man on the moon and return him safely before 1970. Another $40 million would be earmarked for the Gemini project, which now has two astronauts in orbit, and $13 million would be set aside for a 1969 fly-by-Mars project.

WROCLAW, Poland (AP)—A marble cornerstone was laid here Tuesday for a memorial statue of Pope John XXIII with the blessing of Poland's Communist government. Only 1,400 persons turned out in contrast to the many thousands that usually attend events sponsored by the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

The Archbishop of Wroclaw last Sunday called it a government attempt to split the Polish church.

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has renewed his call for a peaceful settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

"The fact that for nearly 20 years the people and responsible leaders of the Near East have been unable to make progress on this question does not speak in our favor," Bourguiba said.

said at a luncheon Tuesday given by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The Tunisian president outraged other Arab leaders with a similar proposal in April 1965. Bourguiba arrived Monday for a four-day state visit.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy is reported recovering from a mild heart attack suffered Sunday at his Hyannis Port home.

Dr. Robert D. Watts, doctor to the patriarch of the Kennedy clan, visited the former ambassador Tuesday and said he was much improved.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Jayne Mansfield has filed suit for divorce from her third husband, charging mental cruelty.

Miss Mansfield, 32, filed the suit Tuesday in Superior Court in Santa Monica, Calif., against stage director Thomas Vitale Ottaviano, 30. The couple, married in September 1964, has one child.

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Lewis' new $350,000 yacht is a casualty of the rocky Pacific Coast of California's Monterey County.

Lewis, 40, and four companions escaped injury Tuesday when a leak sent sea water pouring into the 65-foot yacht "Pussycat," en route from San Francisco to San Diego.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Chief John Big Tree gives you the impression, somehow, that you've seen him before.

The old Iroquois chief, who has outlived his likeness, is one of three Indians who posed in 1913 for the composite head on the other side of the Buffalo nickel, minted from 1913 to 1938.

"It's me from here to here," he said, measuring off the length of his good-sized nose with leathery, brown hands.

Chief Big Tree, who says he has the birth certificate to prove he is 104 years old, flew to Nashville to help promote a bank.

Gasoline Tax, License Funds Are Distributed

Pickaway County received $910,583.50 in the combined distribution of gasoline tax and motor vehicle license fees during the 1966 fiscal year, according to Roger Cloud, state auditor.

The gas tax distribution to the county treasurer totaled $270,000. Municipalities in the county received $66,272 and the townships a total of $144,000 in gas tax distributions.

A breakdown of motor vehicle license money distribution included $48,094 to the townships, $270,600.50 to the county, $111,617 to the registration district.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 20, the 201st day of 1966. There are 164 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1901, an intense heat wave struck the eastern United States. About 200 deaths due to the heat were reported in New York City alone.

On this date in 1628, voting by means of the ballot was first used in America.

Sinatra, Mia Honeymoon After Quickie Marriage

Exactly where they went hasn't been determined.

Sinatra, 50, flew from London to New York and from there to Las Vegas, landing two hours before the wedding Tuesday. Miss Farrow flew in from Los Angeles in another of his company jets. The marriage is the first for the 21-year-old star of television's "Peyton Place."

The marriage ceremony took about four minutes. District Judge William Compton officiated at the single-ring rites in the hotel apartment of Jack Entratter, Sands president and long-time friend of Sinatra.

A week ago Miss Farrow's

mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan, widow of movie director John Farrow, had announced that the wedding would be sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas. The timing apparently caught friends and relatives by surprise. The family of neither was present.

Sinatra was first married to the former Nancy Barbato, who bore his three children: Frank Jr., now 21, Nancy, 24, and Christina (Tina), 17. Like their father Frank Jr. and Nancy are singers.

Sinatra remains on good terms with his first wife, whom he married in 1939. She was awarded custody of the children after divorcing him in 1951.

Instead of waiting for her decree to become final, which takes a year in California, Sinatra got a Nevada divorce in Las Vegas to clear the way for his marriage to actress Ava Gardner. They were divorced after two stormy years.

North Storm Sewer Project Reviewed by City Council

Aspects of the proposed Circleville North Storm Sewer project were reviewed in detail Tuesday night by City Council.

Offering a progress report on the project were Frank Baum of the Burgess & Niple consulting engineer firm and E. P. Bennett who is working on the assessment and easement phase of the program.

Council authorized Baum to negotiate with Robert Elsea concerning acquisition of an easement. A considerable length of the sewer line would cross the Elsea property, located outside the city.

According to Baum, matters still to be solved in regard to the Elsea land include tap-in rights that may or may not be granted the property owner and maintenance of a ditch that would be an essential factor in the sewer function once it is completed.

COUNCILMEN, attempting to look at all legal aspects of the project, leaned toward purchase of an easement from Elsea. They reviewed another alternative of gaining a gratis right-of-way and provisions for free tap-in rights if the property owner desires them.

An actual easement purchase probably would mean the city could charge Elsea for tap-in privileges, council spokesmen noted.

Baum was directed to seek the most equitable and fair method in obtaining the easement in regard to both Elsea and the property owners that will be assessed for cost of the project. The Elsea land, since it is outside the city, is not subject to assessment.

Total cost for the proposed northward drainage program has been estimated at about $175,000. The city's share has been listed at approximately $21,000, with the remainder to be paid by benefited property owners.

Additional water drainage matters were brought to council's attention. Solon Robert Turner reported problems exist on Huston St. and along the southern extremities of Maplewood Ave.

Turner said the front of the Harry Davis residence on Huston St. is plagued with surface water when it rains. Davis, present to explain his problem, said the flooding has been caused by a higher elevation of Ralston Purina's nearby warehouse and the resurfacing of Huston St. last year by the city.

COUNCIL, promising the problems on Huston St. and Maplewood Ave. will be investigated, referred both to the Service Committee.

In the way of other business, the lawmakers adopted a tentative city budget for 1967. No objections were submitted against the proposal during a hearing conducted at the outset of last night's meeting.

General fund receipts for 1967 have been estimated at $302,360.44. However, departmental budget requests for the year amounted to $367,283.

The proposed budget will now be certified to the County Auditor for subsequent inspection by the Pickaway County Budget Commission.

In view of the anticipated deficit, various departmental requests probably will be trimmed unless additional income is secured. A final budget for the coming fiscal year will be acted on by council at the end of 1966.

U.S. pilots flew through the record barrage of missiles Tuesday to bomb six oil depots and other targets in North Viet Nam. The previous high number of SAMs sent up was 16, on July 5.

In the past 15 days, U.S. pilots have spotted at least 90 of the 36-foot "flying telephone poles," but the plane lost Tuesday was the first in the period credited to a missile. The success of U.S. airmen in eluding the rockets is attributed to effective flying tactics and electronic jamming of the missiles' radar guidance systems.

During the raids in the North Tuesday three MIG17s pounced on a flight of U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and shot down one of the American planes. Other Thunderchiefs joined the dogfight near the Ps Phuc Yen airfield 20 miles northwest of Hanoi, and a U.S. spokesman said they damaged all three of the attacking MIGs with cannon fire.

The other U.S. plane lost was a Navy F8 Crusader. A U.S. spokesman acknowledged it was down by a missile from the ground 23 miles south-southeast of Hanoi during an attack on the Co Trai bridge.

Stock Mart Weakens

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market weakened slightly following news today of Britain's new austerity measures aimed at supporting the pound sterling. Trading was moderate early this afternoon.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's announcement of the new program came as the stock market had apparently recovered from its latest case of jitters over Viet Nam. The market was mixed and quiet.

The news from London brought on some additional selling but no great change in the market atmosphere.

Drugs erased most of their small early gains. Losses increased slightly among airline, motor and rail which had been losers before the news came.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 316.7 with industrials off 1.6, rails off .9 and utilities off .5. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.12 at 881.95.

Audio Clinic Starts Here On Thursday

A hearing clinic has been scheduled to begin 9 a. m. Thursday at Corwin St. School. It was announced today by Mrs. Pauline Kirkpatrick, city health nurse.

The clinic was scheduled when a health program established in Circleville Schools under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act revealed that hearing was one of the key health problems for students.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick announced 23 youngsters have been scheduled for the clinic.

A team consisting of an otologist, audiologist, speech and hearing therapists and a pediatrician will give the youngsters referred to the clinic complete examinations.

The entire cost of the clinic is financed by the State Department of Health, Mrs. Kirkpatrick said.

County To Get More Tax Money Under Revision

With the annual revision of municipal tax duplicates in the state, Pickaway County will be one of 34 counties receiving an increased allocation of local government money, it was announced by Roger Cloud, state auditor.

In 1966, the county received $4,135.95 monthly. In 1967, the county will receive $4,297.23, beginning with the July distribution.

The distribution, which amounts to $2 million monthly statewide, is paid out of sales tax collections.

At the same time, Cloud said that 32 counties will receive cuts while 22 other counties will receive the same monthly minimum allocation of $3,333.33, or $40,000 per year, as fixed by law.

When the legislature provided for the distribution of the $24 million local government fund, a few years ago, a formula was set up whereby 75 per cent was paid upon the basis of the municipal tax duplicate within each county in proportion to the state-wide total of such municipal duplicates, and the remaining 25 per cent was based upon population as shown by the federal census.

While the federal census figure remains unchanged for ten years, the tax duplicates are subject to change annually.

Judge Nominees Get Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate judiciary subcommittee approved today President Johnson's nomination of John W. Peck, now a U. S. district court judge for Southern Ohio, too to be a judge of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Also approved after a brief hearing was the nomination of Joseph P. Kinneary, now U. S. district attorney for Southern Ohio, to the district court bench for the same district.

At the hearing, presided over by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Sens. Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche and Rep. John J. Gilligan, Ohio Democrats, testified in support of both Peck and Kinneary.

Legal Ban Against Klan Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach spoke out today against legislation proposed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities to curb the alleged terrorist activities of the Ku Klux Klan.

Contending that the bill presents constitutional difficulties, Katzenbach told the committee a provision of the proposed 1966 Civil Rights Act might be the "wiser response" to the "very real problems" posed by the Klan.

The attorney general said there are "constitutional difficulties and problems with some aspects" of the bill drafted by the committee and its chairman, Rep. Edwin Willis, D-La. The committee bill, Katzenbach said in his prepared testimony, "might unnecessarily complicate prosecution of the perpetrators of such violence" because of "the organizational and conspiracy concepts upon which the bill is based."

Katzenbach doubtless had in mind the complete lack of success that has greeted Justice Department efforts to enforce laws to curb the activities of the U.S. Communist party and require Communists to register with the U.S. government.

His prepared testimony for the House committee was unusually brief. Of its 15 paragraphs, the first 12 were devoted to praising the work of Willis' panel in its investigation of the Klan.

Willis has predicted quick House approval of the legislation after his committee allows two days for hearings.

Bank Gets Prank Call

Circleville Police believe a call placed to the First National Bank at 3:20 p. m. yesterday was a juvenile's prank.

Carolyn Morrman, a bank employee, answered the phone to hear a voice say, "You are going to be robbed in the next five minutes."

She promptly called city police and officers rushed to the bank. In addition, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department was alerted and placed patrol cars in the area.

However, no robber showed up.

Police are pressing their investigation today in an effort to discover who made the call.

Total . . .

At least 24 injured, including 12 policemen, a fireman and five persons with gunshot wounds.

Unaccounted property damage from burning and looting.

More than 100 arrests. Ruined, blackened hulks of buildings, smashed store windows, heaps of tangled rubble—these were the ugly remains.

Harried firemen, often the target of rocks, got 52 calls. City Safety Director John N. McCormick said there were 37 or 38 fires Tuesday night.

Three Negroes, including two wounded by gunfire, were taken to a hospital Tuesday night. A white man was admitted with an eye injury. A Negro youth was treated for a forehead cut from a flying brick.

"It's just black against black — that's all they're doing," moaned a Negro shop owner sitting guard at his place. But it also was Negro against policeman much of the time.

"I hate police," blurted Willie Jones, a Negro, after he heard a friend tell of being beaten by police on the first night of the rioting.

At an intersection in the worst trouble spot, Percy Giles, 36, of suburban Cleveland Heights fell at 8:55 with a bullet in the back of the head.

There was no official report of who shot Giles.

A Negro man at the scene said the shooting came after bottles were hurled at police cars. A crowd of Negroes milled around.

Police fired their weapons. "They shot him! They shot him!" cried some of the Negroes. "This is too much!"

Troopers Pulled Off Patrol in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—National Guardsmen were pulled off patrols of the West Side Tuesday night and the area which was the scene of rioting by Negroes last week went through a quiet night.

It was the first night since the National Guard was activated Friday that the troops were not sent into the area to aid police in controlling outbreaks of violence.

SEATTLE (AP)—The Boeing Co. has received a government contract to look into ways of making the sun shine at night.

The $125,000 award is for a study of the feasibility of orbiting a huge satellite to reflect light from the sun on to the dark side of the earth.

The award was made Tuesday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which made a similar award to the Westinghouse Corp.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, has introduced a bill designed to prevent planned picketing of the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception when Luci Johnson is married there Aug. 6.

Hays' bill would ban picketing within 500 feet of any church building in the District of Columbia. A group opposed to the Viet Nam war has announced plans to picket the church on the wedding day.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House Conference Committee has reached agreement on a compromise plan to spend more than $4.2 billion on the civilian space program this fiscal year. The agreement is expected to win final congressional approval later.

Nearly $3 billion of the total would go into the U.S. effort to land a man on the moon and return him safely before 1970.

Another $40 million would be earmarked for the Gemini project, which now has two astronauts in orbit, and $13 million would be set aside for a 1969 fly-by-Mars project.

WROCLAW, Poland (AP)—A marble cornerstone was laid here Tuesday for a memorial statue of Pope John XXIII with the blessing of Poland's Communist government. Only 1,400 persons turned out in contrast to the many thousands that usually attend events sponsored by the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

The Archbishop of Wroclaw last Sunday called it a government attempt to split the Polish church.

BONN, Germany (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has renewed his call for a peaceful settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

"The fact that for nearly 20 years the people and responsible leaders of the Near East have been unable to make progress on this question does not speak in our favor," Bourguiba said at a luncheon Tuesday given by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The Tunisian president outraged other Arab leaders with a similar proposal in April 1965.

Bourguiba arrived Monday for a four-day state visit.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy is reported recovering from a mild heart attack suffered Sunday at his Hyannis Port home.

Dr. Robert D. Watts, doctor to the patriarch of the Kennedy clan, visited the former ambassador Tuesday and said he was much improved.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield has filed suit for divorce from her third husband, charging mental cruelty.

Miss Mansfield, 32, filed the suit Tuesday in Superior Court in Santa Monica, Calif., against stage director Thomas Vitale Ottaviano, 30. The couple, married in September 1964, has one child.

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Jerry Lewis' new $350,000 yacht is a casualty of the rocky Pacific Coast of California's Monterey County.

Lewis, 40, and four companions escaped injury Tuesday when a leak sent sea water pouring into the 65-foot yacht "Pussycat," en route from San Francisco to San Diego.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Chief John Big Tree gives you the impression, somehow, that you've seen him before.

The old Iroquois chief, who has outlived his likeness, is one of three Indians who posed in 1913 for the composite head on the other side of the Buffalo nickel, minted from 1913 to 1938.

"It's me from here to here," he said, measuring off the length of his good-sized nose with leathery, brown hands.

Chief Big Tree, who says he has the birth certificate to prove he is 104 years old, flew to Nashville to help promote a bank.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A final audit by State Auditor Roger Cloud reported today that the combined distribution of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license fees to the state's political subdivisions climbed to a record $156.6 million during the 1966 fiscal year. He said motor vehicle revenues distributed totaled more than $93.1 million, and gasoline taxes more than $63.4 million.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A report issued today by the National Education Association shows that Ohio State University was the fifth largest producer of new teachers in the United States in 1965 and was a leading graduate center.

The report showed OSU's College of Education graduated 1,233 bachelor's degree holders in 1965 to trail behind leader Michigan State, San Jose State, Southern Illinois and Western Michigan.

False Confidence?

As if there weren't enough things to worry about, 277 kinds of mammals and 521 birds are in danger of extinction.

So says a two-volume work just published by the Survival Service Commission of the International Union for Conservation. A meeting of the commission in Switzerland devoted a great deal of consideration to how these creatures might be saved.

Some of those feared going the way of the dodo are the orangutan, the Persian fallow deer, the Mexican ridgely turtle and the aye-aye, a rare lemur of Madagascar.

Perhaps there is some comfort in the fact that man wasn't included in the list of extinction risks. The conservationists no doubt were lulled by all the excitement over the population explosion.

But the way international affairs are progressing in this nuclear age, it is difficult to see how the conservationists can be so confident.

Lodge Needed in Saigon

By John Chamberlain

Henry Cabot Lodge, our Ambassador to South Vietnam, has turned up with a strong winning hand in his support of the Marshal Ky junta against the Thich Tri Quang militant Buddhists. And so, unable to beat him on the ground in Saigon, Lodge's "neutralist" opponents have apparently turned to the subtle strategy of trying to oust him by a combination of flattery for past performances and solicitude for the future state of his health.

This is to impute a rather clever Machiavellianism to the Lodge enemies. But how else is one to explain the stories that an able man, who is reportedly in good physical shape, must be unduly "fatigued" by the events of the past year in the tropical steam bath of South-east Asia? Lodge himself, who is a vigorous sixty-four, has not been complaining about feeling either tired or dispirited. Nor does he call for his "inevitable" resignation make any sense when they are accompanied by suggestions that he be replaced by such an old State Department hand as Ellsworth Bunker, who has lived much of his life in debilitating climates and is certainly no spring chicken.

To recall Lodge at this point would be the equivalent of replacing General Grant as commander of the western armies in the War Between the States after the Vicksburg campaign had been won. In this connection the old story of Grant's reputed tipping comes to mind. It will be recalled that Lincoln, told of his most successful general's fondness for a nip, replied by asking the brand of the whisky Grant preferred so that a couple of extra casks might be sent to him. If success and "fatigue" go together with Lodge, we might legitimately ask that he be allowed to tire himself still further in the service of his country.

Lodge, at the age of sixty-four has no more political axes to grind. He allowed himself to be sent to Saigon for a second tour of duty from motives of pure patriotism. Having lived through the chancy period of instability that followed the murder of President Diem, he supported Ky against the militant Buddhists out of the deeply acquired knowledge that one cannot win a war by constantly changing governments. Ky, a fighter, may not be the very model of a democratic statesman, but he has proved sufficiently sagacious to keep his country from disintegrating. Far from being an American stooge, he has followed his own path. He has maneuvered astutely to blend continuity with change in a way that would allow the war against the Vietcong and the invading North Vietnamese Communists to go forward.

So Lodge, as the protector of Ky in the effort to keep the whole situation in Southeast Asia from unraveling, seems to be on the brink of joining such worthies as William Howard Taft and Douglas in the ranks of great American proscons.

Why should it be desirable to replace him at this point? We are apparently on the edge of battlefield success in South Vietnam. The Communist thrust to break the nation in two in the central highland region under cover of the Monsoon downpours has not yet materialized, and in another couple of months the rainy season will be over. Meanwhile, there is a constitutional convention coming up, and a period of transition to a more representative government under a constitution. Our Embassy in Saigon needs a wise old hand at the helm during the forthcoming period of turnover.

Lodge's second Vietnamese tour is bound to be the capstone of his career. His place in history will be judged by whatever comes out of it. His enemies would dearly love to rob him of a personal victory by replacing the Ky regime with a group of "neutralists" who would be willing to compromise with the Communists at the peace table. Lodge is not against negotiations, nor is he oblivious to the argument that the war in Vietnam will eventually have to be won on the economic front in a pacified countryside. But unless the South Vietnamese are able to negotiate from strength, a movement to the peace table would be meaningless in the long term.

If any man has deserved the opportunity to see his mission through, Henry Cabot Lodge is such a man. And may Heaven save him from the activities of his suddenly solicitous new "friends."

Actor Tries To Bury His Ego

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Make a hero out of a guy who admires cauliflower? Who studies yoga? Who isn't even handsome?

It couldn't be done—but Hollywood did it.

It did it by elevating the stardom James Coburn, a most peculiar kind of actor.

The average film star has a monumental ego.

In this respect Jim Coburn is dazingly different.

"To me the ideal is to be an egoless actor—to become so lost in art that you become selfless," he said.

Coburn, who looks like a boyish mixture of Jimmy Stewart, Gary Cooper and a homely gnome, is dead serious.

"Ego isn't creative generally—it's merely protective. Clashing egos can ruin a picture. My present aim is to get beyond the ego into the realm of real creativity," he said.

"So much attention is paid to making a star feel more important than he is. After all, how important can an actor really be?"

This smacks of heresy in an industry that fairly often pays stars a million dollars or more for a single film.

"The quest for the Holy Grail really is the search for why you are here on earth—the secret of life," he remarked. "To me life is self-evolution. The important thing is to find out what kind of a human being you are, and whether you are growing—and if not, why not."

Just a few years ago Jim, a lanky, stage-struck young Army veteran from Laurel, Neb., was earning a living shaving off his beard on razor blade television commercials.

Jim is a new kind of hero. He is bubbly-spirited, full of odd enthusiasms, and resembles a gawky college teacher from the Ozark hills more than he does a matinee idol. His wonderfully mobile, leathery face crinkles when he smiles. Just an all-American lad, at 38 still growing up.

The responsibility of sudden stardom has left Jim a bit puzzled.

"Success does change you," he admitted somewhat wistfully. "The job makes the man. And you make more concessions as you grow older. I have become more alone, and yet I desire company more. But I guess that feeling alone is a necessary part of life."

SMOKERS, cheer up! Pointed out William Makepeace Thackeray, "The pipe draws wisdom from the lips of the philosopher and shuts up the mouth of the foolish." Added Arnold Bennett, "It is better to be without a wife for a week than without tobacco for an hour." And admitted Lin Yutang, "I am always ill at ease when I enter a house in which there are no ash trays. Immediately I am put on my best behavior, which means the same thing as the most uncomfortable behavior."

Grandma had already extended her unannounced visit for three weeks, and her daughter-in-law and son were slowly going crazy. Finally they concocted a scheme: they would fake a fight and the one with whom she sided would later tell her the other was so insulted that she'd simply have to leave.

So that night the wife deliberately spilled a plate of hot soup down her husband's neck. "You're the clumsiest, ugliest, stupidest clunk I've ever seen!" roared the husband. "And you," shot back the wife, "are the laziest, demandingest, meanest rat in the world. What do you say, Grandma?"

"I'm not saying a word," replied Grandma cheerfully. "I'm staying two more months."

Shortly after a new oil field was opened in Crockett County, Texas, a grizzled native, reports Allan Bosworth, received a royalty check for $750,000 and exclaimed angrily, "Oh, no! This puts me in another income-tax bracket!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Can tuberculosis affect any other part of the body besides the lungs?

The lungs are by far the most common site for active tuberculosis. Almost every other organ and tissue in the body can be infected by the tubercle bacillus, the germ responsible for this disease.

It is comparatively rare for tuberculosis to strike the larynx, intestines, bones and bladder unless there is also a severe tuberculous infection of the lung.

This is a good moment to emphasize the fact that tuberculosis is still a very widespread disease. The remarkable control and cure of this devastating condition during the past 20 years is based on earlier recognition by regular X-rays of the chest.

Can the feet become swollen without a kidney or heart condition?

Sometimes perfectly healthy adults can develop swelling of the feet and ankles without any serious heart, circulatory or kidney disease.

Occasionally women develop such swelling during their premenstrual periods.

This type of accumulation of fluid in the feet is called gravitational, or positional, swelling (edema).

Characteristically the feet become swollen towards the end of the day. After a good night's rest the feet once again return to their normal condition.

It is important that all possible causes for such swelling be investigated. The heart, kidneys, liver, endocrine glands, blood circulation and varicose veins can all be studied to be sure that no serious reason for swelling of the feet is present.

Can air conditioning be responsible for summer colds?

Summer colds have been attributed to many different things. Air conditioning is only one of them. There are many people who insist they are "allergic" to air conditioning and that they sneeze as soon as they enter a cold room.

This is entirely possible. Some highly sensitive people even develop hives after exposure to any cold.

A "cold" is caused by a germ or a virus. Perhaps severe chilling of the body by an air-conditioner may lower one's resistance to infection and invite a cold.

Don't swap symptoms and drugs with friends and neighbors.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—If the economy slowed down in the second quarter of 1966, it forgot to tell the bookkeepers of many of the nation's top corporations. Day after day, they are reporting that their companies made more money than last year, and in many cases netted larger profits than for any other three months in their history.

Corporate earnings statements for the first six months and for the April-June quarter are flooding in now. To the delight of most shareholders the profit harvest is bountiful—and for many so is the outpouring of dividends.

But all is not quite that serene up in the corporate executive suites. The record profits which U.S. industry apparently racked up in the second quarter—based on being watched closely by an administration bent on discouraging price increases it deems unjustified.

Record profits also may serve as an inspiration for union officials seeking to get a bigger share of corporate revenues for workers in the form of higher wage scales.

But the profits themselves spell out a story of prosperity—and a business boom which has yet really to level off, and one that certainly still seems far from turning down.

The list of companies reporting that second quarter profits were the highest for any three months is a sizable one. Some of the companies are: Du Pont, IBM, General Foods, Reynolds Metals.

Record profits for any second quarter also are reported by: Xerox, Polaroid, U.S. Rubber, Westinghouse Electric, Allis Chalmers, Kaiser Aluminum, RCA, Continental Can, Georgia Pacific, Mead Corp.

And then there's American Telephone Telegraph. It's one of three companies that made more than a billion dollars in all of 1965. ATT seems well on the way to setting a profits record this year. For the three months ending May 31 it reports profits of $495,233,000, up from $435,732,000 in the like period last year.

The other two companies making more than a billion last year are General Motors and Jersey Standard Oil. Both are expected to report on this year's results by the end of this month.

Federal Deficit Falls To New Low, LBJ Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has announced the federal budget deficit was held to $2.3 billion in the latest bookkeeping year—the lowest level since he took office.

Only last January, Johnson told Congress he expected a deficit of $6.4 billion for the 1966 fiscal year that ended June 30.

Spending during the 12 months totalled $106.9 billion. Revenues soared to $104.6 billion.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Papa Has Bad Temper

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a very hot temper. He tried to call home for two hours yesterday and the line was busy because our teen-age daughter was talking. Well, Angelo left work, stormed into the house and tore our telephone out by the roots! (I was ashamed to tell the telephone repairman how it happened, so I said the dog did it.)

If one of the children leaves his bicycle or a toy in the driveway, Angelo deliberately drives over it. A friend of mine who has studied a lot of psychology told me that this is "healthy" for Angelo because it gets the anger out of his system, which if he kept bottled up inside might give him ulcers. But, what is the rest of the family supposed to do while Angelo protects himself against ulcers?

ANGELO'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: They protect themselves against Angelo.

DEAR ABBY: Somebody must have been pulling your leg. A man who signed himself "criticized" wrote to say that his wife's cousin was being buried on the same Saturday morning that his brother's son was becoming Bar Mitzvah. Abby, this is not possible. Jewish people are NEVER—but NEVER buried on a Saturday.

A RABBI

DEAR RABBI: I know they aren't. But the wife's cousin wasn't Jewish.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which I am sure must bother other newlyweds. Why does a young wife feel that if she doesn't see or call her mother every single day, the world will come to an end? My wife seems to have this idea. She says she's afraid her mother might get "upset" if she isn't in touch with her daily.

Her mother is in good health and has a husband to look after her. Why don't mothers let their married daughters grow up and be independent? Or am I wrong to take this attitude?

A HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: You are assuming a great deal when you assume that it's the mother who "refuses to let her married daughter grow up and be independent." Perhaps the daughter is hanging on to her mother.

I see nothing wrong with a daughter (married or single) keeping in touch with her mother daily. And if you do, perhaps you should ask yourself why.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. William Sibbick and children of Martinsville, Va., will be weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hedges, 836 N. Court St.

You can extra store ice cubes, if you need to, in your freezer. Just drop the cubes into one of those heavy clean bags used as liners for refuse cans.

Miss Davis Engaged to Mr. Rooney

CAROL ELAINE DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Earl Davis Jr., Route 1, Ashville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Elaine, to Mr. Joseph W. Rooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Rooney, Route 3.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Teays Valley High School, is employed by the local Du Pont Co.

Mr. Rooney is a graduate of Circleville High School. A veteran of four years in the United States Air Force, he is employed at Du Pont and attends Franklin University.

A spring wedding is being planned.

Miss Watson Honored at Bridal Shower

Miss Patricia Watson, bride-elect of Mr. Keith Turvey, was honored with a bridal shower given by Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson and Mrs. Linda Manbevers in the party room of Mary's Restaurant.

Tables were decorated in lilac and white bells and candles, with bowls of white hydrangeas. Games were played.

Attending were Mrs. Gloria Gabriel, Mrs. Joan Bailey, Mrs. Lenna Turvey, Mrs. Alice Heiskell, Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, Mrs. Betty Kerns, Mrs. Elva Faye Chaney, all of Circleville.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Donna Collins of Chillicothe, and Miss Jean Shellhouse, Miss Judy Johnston of Columbus, and Mrs. Laura Bader of Xenia.

Sending gifts were Mrs. Elizabeth Hildenbrand, Mrs. Mary Young, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Ellen Harmount, Mrs. Ruby Wise, Miss Ellen Young, Mrs. Pauline Arnold, Mrs. Marcella Hildenbrand, Mrs. Rebecca Valentine, Mrs. Eva Black, Miss Mary Spangler, Mrs. Jeanette Chilcote, Mrs. Mabel Bitzer and Debra, all of Circleville, Mrs. Gail Eisenman and Mrs. Marlene Mattevi of Columbus.

Finely chopped cooked vegetables, mixed with mayonnaise, make an excellent stuffing for tomatoes that are to be served as a salad. Starting from the stem end of each tomato, cut it into sixths, but do not cut all the way through. Spread the wedges apart and then add the stuffing.

Luci Picks Pink and White Theme for Her Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP) Luci Johnson has picked floor-length, stemline moire dresses in blending shades of pink, for her 12 bridesmaids, with matching illusion veils that flow to the floor.

She has decided that her high noon church wedding Aug. 6 to Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., will have a pink and white theme. Her own dress, picked weeks ago — an elegant long gown — is being kept secret until the wedding day.

President Johnson, the bridegroom and the 12 groomsmen will wear traditional morning attire — Oxford gray cutaway coats and striped gray and black trousers.

Still to be announced by the White House is the attire of the First Lady, the mother of the bride, Mrs. Johnson; and the gown of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gerald P. Nugent.

The White House, getting queries about what the guests should wear, said business suits will be appropriate for male guests and informal ensembles will do for the women.

The bridesmaids gowns are the design of Priscilla of Boston, a New York and Boston firm headed by Mrs. James (Priscilla) Kidder, who has specialized in bridal clothes for more than 30 years.

They were picked by practical Luci with two things in mind: they had to be dresses that could be worn again and everything had to be "within a budget the bridesmaids could afford."

In announcing the wedding attire Saturday night, the First Lady's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said it was traditional for bridesmaids to pay for their own dresses, and Luci's bridesmaids would be no exception. On the question of how much the gowns cost, Mrs. Carpenter dodged with the comment "We don't put a price tag on romance."

The groomsmen, and probably the bridegroom, too, will rent their cutaways. Mrs. Carpenter said she didn't know what the President would do about getting his morning outfit.

The long dresses Luci picked for her bridesmaids have a molded silhouette bodice, easing into a stemline-shaped skirt which flows slightly in the back for comfort in walking. That's important since the bridal party will have to negotiate long flights of steps and a 400-foot aisle in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, site of the wedding.

The high neckline of the gown has a rolled "wedding-ring" shape which also is carried out on the edges of the semilength sleeves and the hemline. There are matching fabric buttons for back accent.

The gathered illusion—delicate net lace—veils are worn at the back of the head, shown by the designer with a high up-swept hairdo. But Luci's bridesmaids will pick any hairstyles they prefer, Mrs. Carpenter said.

Matching pink shoes go with the costume. They have a tiny front bow and practical 1½-inch low, shaped heels.

The bride's attendances also will wear wrist-length white kid gloves. Pearl earrings will be their only jewelry.

Luci will carry a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley, greenhouse-grown by White House gardeners. The bridesmaids will have nosegays of lilies of the valley from the White House supply, along with blended pink roses in different shades. They're being designed by White House florists.

Luci had the aid of family friend Stanley Marcus, president of the Neiman-Marcus department store in Dallas, Tex., in picking the bridesmaids gowns and the designer. The gowns will be bought at Neiman-Marcus.

WCTU Women Hosted by Mrs. Grabill

Mrs. Howard Grabill was hostess for members of the Five Points WCTU when they met for their July meeting.

Mrs. Francis Furtiss, president, opened the meeting with group singing and the pledges to the American, Christian Temperance Flags. Mrs. Ned Long read a scripture meditation and prayer followed. Roll call was answered by eight members.

Mrs. Florence Haughn, county president, was a guest. She gave highlights on meetings slated at Stoutsville and Lancaster and urged members to attend.

Mrs. Lloyd Neff, secretary protem, gave her report. Mrs. Loring Stoer read "Saboteur of Victory" and Mrs. Ernestine Dudleson read, "Register Christian Opinion". A pamphlet was discussed and the meeting was closed with a friendship circle and the benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Grabill, assisted by Mrs. Dudleson.

Buxom Belles Returning, Bra Manufacturers Say

NEW YORK (AP) — The buxom-bosomed belle is back. Some say it may be because of the birth-control pill.

"We put two and two together," said Dan Garson, president of Lovable Brassiere Co. "We've been watching sizes go up the last two years."

Garson said size 34B always has been the biggest brassiere seller, but sizes 36B and 34C are catching up.

C cup sales are up about 20 per cent and for the first time are larger than A cup sales, reported Charles R. Carruth, Jantzen, Inc., vice president.

"And the D cup — that used to be only for older women," Carruth said. "A lot of younger women require them now."

Maidenform, Inc., also reported a swing to larger sizes — but only in the United States.

"It used to be 34B was the classic average size," a spokesman said. "About last year, we noticed it had gone up to 36B, and that we were selling more Cs and Ds."

"But abroad, it's been pretty static — 32A still is the best seller in Hong Kong and 38C and D in Africa."

The Food and Drug Administration says that birth-control pills may cause a swelling of the breasts similar to that of early pregnancy, but that it lasts only about three months.

A representative of a major pill manufacturer said his firm had no statistical information to support a link between the pill and bigger busts.

There have been, however, reports of tenderness and swelling which usually disappear, he said.

"I don't think you can single out birth-control pills as the one cause," said Carruth, general manager of Jantzen's Foundations Division. "Maybe it's the vitamins. It's a general upgrading of health."

"Younger people are larger and healthier. Women are taller, too. Maybe the pills add to it."

"But women have much bigger feet than they used to, too," Carruth said.

7 Dover Policemen Quit in Wage Dispute

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — City council will consider a course of action this week in the wake of resignations by at least seven members of the city's 13-man police force. The resignations are effective Aug. 1.

In a letter to council, the resigning police officers said a pay raise of July 11 was inadequate and indicated low salaries were the reason for their quitting.

That's important since the bridal party will have to negotiate long flights of steps and a 400-foot aisle in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, site of the wedding.

The high neckline of the gown has a rolled "wedding-ring" shape which also is carried out on the edges of the semilength sleeves and the hemline. There are matching fabric buttons for back accent.

The gathered illusion—delicate net lace—veils are worn at the back of the head, shown by the designer with a high up-swept hairdo. But Luci's bridesmaids will pick any hairstyles they prefer, Mrs. Carpenter said.

Matching pink shoes go with the costume. They have a tiny front bow and practical 1½-inch low, shaped heels.

The bride's attendances also will wear wrist-length white gloves. Pearl earrings will be their only jewelry.

Luci will carry a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley, greenhouse-grown by White House gardeners. The bridesmaids will have nosegays of lilies of the valley from the White House supply, along with blended pink roses in different shades. They're being designed by White House florists.

Luci had the aid of family friend Stanley Marcus, president of the Neiman-Marcus department store in Dallas, Tex., in picking the bridesmaids' gowns and the designer. The gowns will be bought at Neiman-Marcus.

Buxom Belles Returning, Bra Manufacturers Say

NEW YORK (AP) — The buxom-bosomed belle is back. Some say it may be because of the birth-control pill.

"We put two and two together," said Dan Garson, president of Lovable Brassiere Co. "We've been watching sizes go up the last two years."

Garson said size 34B always has been the biggest brassiere seller, but sizes 36B and 34C are catching up.

C cup sales are up about 20 per cent and for the first time are larger than A cup sales, reported Charles R. Carruth, Jantzen, Inc., vice president.

"And the D cup — that used to be only for older women," Carruth said. "A lot of younger women require them now."

Maidenform, Inc., also reported a swing to larger sizes — but only in the United States.

"It used to be 34B was the classic average size," a spokesman said. "About last year, we noticed it had gone up to 36B, and that we were selling more Cs and Ds."

"But abroad, it's been pretty static — 32A still is the best seller in Hong Kong and 38C and D in Africa."

The Food and Drug Administration says that birth-control pills may cause a swelling of the breasts similar to that of early pregnancy, but that it lasts only about three months.

A representative of a major pill manufacturer said his firm had no statistical information to support a link between the pill and bigger busts.

There have been, however, reports of tenderness and swelling which usually disappear, he said.

"I don't think you can single out birth-control pills as the one cause," said Carruth, general manager of Jantzen's Foundations Division. "Maybe it's the vitamins. It's a general upgrading of health.

"Younger people are larger and healthier. Women are taller, too. Maybe the pills add to it."

"But women have much bigger feet than they used to, too," Carruth said.

7 Dover Policemen Quit in Wage Dispute

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — City council will consider a course of action this week in the wake of resignations by at least seven members of the city's 13-man police force. The resignations are effective Aug. 1.

In a letter to council, the resigning police officers said a pay raise of July 11 was inadequate and indicated low salaries were the reason for their quitting.

Visiting Students Give Their Views on America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two out-of-date Ohio license plates, a broken ski, a flour sifter, a couple of old copies of Playboy magazine, and about 15 tons of excess fat.

That may not sound like a list of tourist souvenirs of a trip to the United States, but for 3,086 youngsters, it was.

There was, of course, a smattering of models of the Statue of Liberty, picture post cards of the White House at night and a few Indian blankets.

But after living in this country for nearly a year under "typical American home" conditions, 3,086 teen-agers from 59 foreign countries were far more interested in returning home with, as one put it, "the idiotic little things we can't get or can't afford in our own countries."

The teen-agers arrived late last summer to live and study in the United States under the auspices of the American Field Service. They stayed with American families and many, who were high school seniors when they arrived, were returning home with diplomas from American schools.

As they gathered here during their last week in this country, they had curious souvenir lists and some frank comments about the American way of life.

Most startling for many of the students were American strange drinking habits. Some sample comments:

Stella de la Garma, 18, of Mar Del Plata, Argentina: "We have no drinking age (limit) in Argentina. Anybody can drink any time, so nobody ever gets drunk. But here, kids get drunk just because it's against the law."

Hans Joerg Niebergall, 18, of Bremen, Germany: "American beer tastes like soapy water. And Americans pour beer down the side of glasses to keep foam down. That's just making bad beer worse."

Jose Filomino, 19, of Sao Paulo, Brazil: "In my country, if you can reach the bar, you can order a beer."

But, apparently in Brazil, he can't get old Confederate flags because they number among Jose's souvenirs, as does a set of Ohio license plates.

"There's no particular reason for them," he said. "I just like them."

One rather universal souvenir among the students was excess personal poundage.

Nearly all of them gained weight, they said, in amounts varying from 6 to 35 pounds. If conservatively averaged at 10 pounds per student, this totals more than 15 tons.

"It's not surprising," said Annie Ringot, 19, of Paris. "Americans take cars everywhere they go. When I went to the mailbox, I took a car."

War Prisoner Rulings Debated

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Are the American captives in North Viet Nam subject to trial under the 1948 Nuernberg Charter against war criminals — or are they immune from it under the 1949 Geneva convention for the protection of prisoners of war?

North Vietnamese diplomats have spotlighted a growing world legal dispute on that point in announcing that the captured fliers would be tried on war crime charges.

But Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. Chief delegate to the United Nations, told reporters in Geneva Tuesday that in the U.S. view "the Geneva conventions on the treatment of prisoners of war fully apply to the Viet Nam conflict." Goldberg is a former justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

This conflict of opinion was noted in an appeal made by Secretary-General U Thant last Saturday in which he asked North Viet Nam to exercise restraint in its treatment of American prisoners.

In a statement issued by a spokesman Thant urged all sides in the Viet Nam war to "comply with the provisions of the Geneva convention of Aug. 12, 1949, irrespective of conflict interpretations."

The North Vietnamese, however, continue to threaten the trial of U.S. personnel under the Nuernberg Charter.

They argue that the United States is carrying on the war in Viet Nam in violation of the 1954 Geneva agreements on Indochina, which call for the withdrawal of foreign troops.

Article 6 of the Nuernberg Charter sets out that "crimes against peace" include "waging of a war of aggression, or a war in violation of international treaties, agreements or assurances."

Article 8 says: "The fact that the defendant acted pursuant to order of his government or of a superior shall not free him from responsibility, but may be considered in mitigation of punishment."

North Viet Nam could plead the first part of that article in convicting the fliers, the latter part in letting them off lightly.

The United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France adopted the Nuernberg Charter in London Aug. 8, 1945, as the law for an international military tribunal to try major German war criminals.

But in handing down its judgment in Nuernberg Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, 1946, the tribunal gave the charter general application, saying that the crimes it listed "were crimes under international law already."

The United States might argue that if a point of international law was at issue, a North Vietnamese court would hardly be the place to decide it.

North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam and the United States are all bound by the Geneva convention on prisoners of war, since all are parties to it.

It was adopted at a Geneva diplomatic conference and South Viet Nam became a party in 1954, the United States in 1956 and North Viet Nam in 1957.

It appears to cover the present undeclared war, because it says "the present convention shall apply to all cases of declared war or of any other armed conflict which may arise between two or more contracting parties, even if a state of war is not recognized by one of them."

K of C Council Installs Officers

Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held an installation of officers program Monday night in the council rooms.

Officers installed were Tom Shea, grand knight; Dallas Elliott Jr., deputy grand knight; John Vedlinski, chancellor; Roscoe Gates, warden; Larry Werthey, treasurer; Richard Sill, recorder; Robert Monarski, advocate; Everett Stocklen, trustee; Roger McConnell, outside guard; and Sam Sberna, inside guard.

Installing officers were Dick Ward, district deputy; Don Kaltenback, district warden. Both officers were from Chillicothe.

Business Briefs

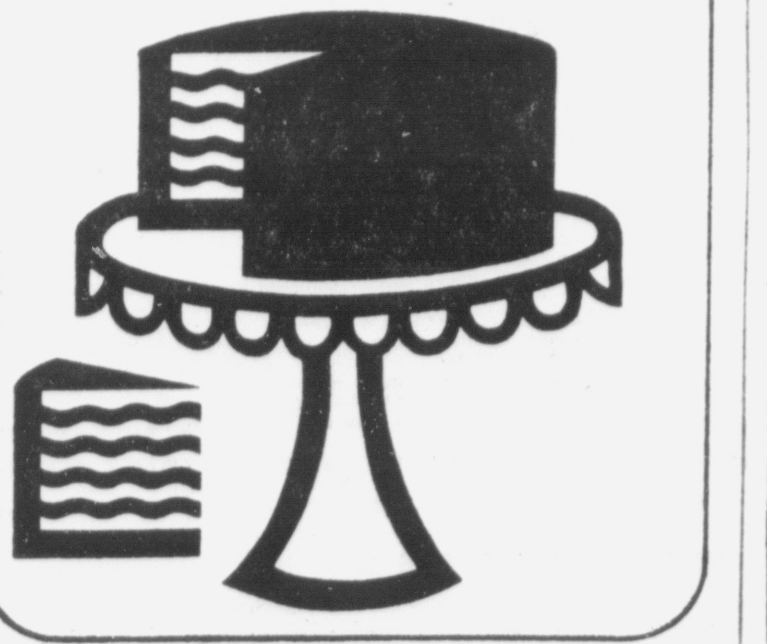

J. L. McNealy, president, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., announced common share earnings of $12.886,000 for the 12-month period ending June 30. This is a 2.2 per cent increase over the $12,604,000 reported for the previous 12 months.

Earnings on common shares were $2.30 per share a 5 cent increase over the $2.25 reported for the same period ending in 1965. These figures are based on 5,600,000 shares outstanding.

Area Granges Enjoy Picnic At Tar Hollow

Pickaway County granges held their annual picnic at Tar Hollow State Park. The event was sponsored by the County Grange Youth.

Members and guests from all granges but one attended the event.

Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, on behalf of the county deputy John Dowler, administered the written exam to all the candidates for the selection of the county prince and princess.

As a conclusion to the afternoon events Paul Dunkle, 1966 Ohio State Grange prince, announced the winners in the contest. He presented to the Grangers the 1966-67 Pickaway Grange Prince, Greg Fraunfelter, a member of the Saltcreek Valley Grange, and the Princess, Beverly McKenzie, a member of Logan Elm Grange.

The prince and princess were given sashes which they will wear at the Ohio State Grange Convention when they compete for the state title. This convention will be held in Cincinnati in late October.

Private House Building Hits 5-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of new privately owned housing units began during June dropped to the lowest level in more than five years, the Census Bureau reported Tuesday.

Housing starts last month dropped to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,288,000 units, the lowest since May 1961 — a month of mild recession, on government source noted — when the rate was 1,248,000 units.

It was the third straight month in which housing starts have taken a tumble.

The National Association of Home Builders, which has contended the home building industry has borne the brunt of the administration's attempt to dampen inflationary pressure, reacted immediately to the new figures by calling an emergency meeting of the nation's 800 leading builders for July 27 in Washington.

A scarcity of mortgage money, one factor in the current tight money market which has been marked by an interest rate war between commercial banks and savings and loan associations, is a major factor in the receding number of housing starts.

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Though Communist countries have a marked habit of not always following through on bellicose statements, there is real concern here that North Viet Nam may try downed American pilots as war criminals.

The concern is based in part on the effectiveness of the air strikes against oil facilities outside Hanoi and Haiphong and on the fact that U.S. authorities believe North Viet Nam is hard-pressed for men and material.

As far back as last September, the North Vietnamese government threatened in a letter to the International Red Cross at Geneva to try captured American pilots as war criminals. And yet it wasn't until last month or so that official Washington demonstrated deep concern.

There are at least three reasons for the mounting anxiety:

1. The parading of dozens of captured American pilots through the main street of Hanoi July 6 before jeering crowds shouting: "Death to the American pirates. Punish the war criminals severely."
2. The recent multiplicity of threats in official and semi-official North Vietnamese quarters that the pilots would be tried.
3. The psychological and material losses suffered by North Viet Nam in the devastating oil strikes, leading to the belief that Hanoi — if only for the sake of face — may feel compelled to retaliate in some dramatic way.

What would the Communists hope to accomplish by trying the pilots as war criminals?

There are several theories current here. Among them:

1. Uniting the civilian population in the North behind Hanoi's military efforts in the South by hammering home the idea that the North Vietnamese are the victims of criminal action by the United States.
2. Rallying world opinion to Hanoi's side via the same theme.
3. Getting material help from sympathetic countries and spurring its own people to keep up the war's manpower demands.
4. Turning American public opinion against President Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

The last could turn out to be a miscalculation. Many critics of the war already have joined with administration officials in trying to head off "war crimes" trials.

Last Friday, the Senate's "doves" urged Hanoi to "refrain from any act of violence" against captured American airmen and said execution "would incite a public demand for retaliation swift and sure."

And on Monday, Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, told the International Red Cross such trials could lead to "disastrous consequences."

The United States' legal position is grounded in the 1949 Geneva convention on treatment of prisoners of war. Washington signed in 1955 and North Viet Nam in 1957.

Among other things, the convention applies to "armed conflict" as well as cases of declared war — there has been no declaration of war in Viet Nam — gives prisoner of war status to war criminals and says "prisoners of war must at all times be protected, particularly against acts of violence or intimidation and against insults and public curiosity."

North Viet Nam claims as a precedent the Nuernberg trials of German war criminals after World War II.

Wage-Price Guidelines Not Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The Johnson administration flexed its muscles again this past week and indicated its anti-inflationary wage-price guidelines were not dead.

It forced the molybdenum industry to roll back 5 per cent price increases announced only last week. Molybdenum is a key ingredient in the making of high grade steel.

Some businessmen, lulled by the quiet since the aluminum and copper price rollbacks last fall and the partial one in steel in January, were surprised.

But Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, called the rollback "an act of industrial statesmanship which symbolizes the cooperation which the administration's effort to hold the line on prices and costs has been receiving from thousands of business enterprises throughout the country."

Federal officials also took a hand in the negotiations to end the machinists' strike against five major airlines.

The strike grounded more than 60 per cent of the traffic on the nation's trunk routes, costing the five lines $7 million a day during the peak travel season.

The nation's hotel and resort operators, peripatetic businessmen, electrical manufacturers waiting for parts, lobster dealers in Boston and flower growers in California felt the pinch as passengers and air freight were stranded.

New York City estimated its losses in tourist revenue alone at $500,000 a day.

Checks normally flown to Federal Reserve banks piled up, automatically supplying the banks with additional reserves.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON:

at the same time the Federal Reserve Board was trying to cut them.

The board adopted a new measure to absorb the reserves in its attempt to keep a tight rein on credit.

The board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation moved Friday to cool the hot interest rate war between commercial banks and savings and loan institutions.

They cut the maximum interest rate banks may pay on certain 90-day time deposits from 5.5 to 5 per cent, and on shorter ones to 4 per cent, effective next Wednesday.

The board also asked Congress for broader authority for it, the FDIC and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to control the interest rate practices of banks and savings and loan associations.

The board said the moves were to halt interest rate competition when monetary policy is aimed at curbing inflation.

Earlier, Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had asked the House Banking Committee to take prompt legislative action to halt the rate war.

Bankers and saving and loan officials across the country indicated they felt Fowler's comments were too little and too late.

Interest rates have risen to the highest level in a generation, putting heavy pressures on consumers who want to borrow money to buy houses or cars.

At the same time, U.S. government bonds have declined to the lowest level in more than 40 years and Treasury bill yields have been the highest since 1960.

'Wonderful World' Whisky Is Sold Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The controversial "Wonderful World of Ohio" whisky decanters are sold out, State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook reported Tuesday.

He said the state sold 1,995 cases of the 10-year-old bourbon in the few weeks it was on sale by the case only. He added the department has a considerable number of unfilled orders for the whisky, but he had not decided whether to contact the distiller for an additional shipment.

Wage-Price Guidelines Not Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The Johnson administration flexed its muscles again this past week and indicated its anti-inflationary wage-price guidelines were not dead.

It forced the molybdenum industry to roll back 5 per cent price increases announced only last week. Molybdenum is a key ingredient in the making of high grade steel.

Some businessmen, lulled by the quiet since the aluminum and copper price rollbacks last fall and the partial one in steel in January, were surprised.

But Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, called the rollback "an act of industrial statesmanship which symbolizes the cooperation which the administration's effort to hold the line on prices and costs has been receiving from thousands of business enterprises throughout the country."

Federal officials also took a hand in the negotiations to end the machinists' strike against five major airlines.

The strike grounded more than 60 per cent of the traffic on the nation's trunk routes, costing the five lines $7 million a day during the peak travel season.

The nation's hotel and resort operators, peripatetic businessmen, electrical manufacturers waiting for parts, lobster dealers in Boston and flower growers in California felt the pinch as passengers and air freight were stranded.

New York City estimated its losses in tourist revenue alone at $500,000 a day.

Checks normally flown to Federal Reserve banks piled up, automatically supplying the banks with additional reserves.

at the same time the Federal Reserve Board was trying to cut them.

The board adopted a new measure to absorb the reserves in its attempt to keep a tight rein on credit.

The board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation moved Friday to cool the hot interest rate war between commercial banks and savings and loan institutions.

They cut the maximum interest rate banks may pay on certain 90-day time deposits from 5.5 to 5 per cent, and on shorter

ones to 4 per cent, effective next Wednesday.

The board also asked Congress for broader authority for it, the FDIC and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to control the interest rate practices of banks and savings and loan associations.

The board said the moves were to halt interest rate competition when monetary policy is aimed at curbing inflation.

Earlier, Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had asked the House Banking Committee to take prompt legislative action to halt the rate war.

Bankers and saving and loan officials across the country indicated they felt Fowler's comments were too little and too late.

Interest rates have risen to the highest level in a generation, putting heavy pressures on consumers who want to borrow money to buy houses or cars.

At the same time, U.S. government bonds have declined to the lowest level in more than 40 years and Treasury bill yields have been the highest since 1960.

'Wonderful World' Whisky Is Sold Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The controversial "Wonderful World of Ohio" whisky decanters are sold out, State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook reported Tuesday.

He said the state sold 1,995 cases of the 10-year-old bourbon in the few weeks it was on sale by the case only. He added the department has a considerable number of unfilled orders for the whisky, but he had not decided whether to contact the distiller for an additional shipment.

Viet Nam Survival Odds Are Going Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mounting Viet Nam casualty figures mask an essential fact for all draft-age American men: The average GI's chances of leaving Viet Nam alive are five times better than during the Korean War.

Of the next 1,000 men inducted into the Army, only eight probably will be killed in action, current official figures show.

"Thousands of men are poured into the Army every month and must pass through a great series of manpower filters before a relatively few will wind up in Viet Nam assigned to rifle companies or spots where they

$66 Million Bond Issue Slated in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A $66-million bond issue for school construction and a 4-mill, five-year operating levy will be on the ballot when Cleveland voters go to the polls this November.

The Cleveland Board of Education made the decision Tuesday night at a special session, following a public hearing on its 1967 budget for $85,522,116.

are likely to see heavy action," an Army source says.

Of the hypothetical 1,000 draftees, about 40 will be wounded, but their chances of dying later are far reduced from Korea or World War II because of helicopter medical evacuation, vastly improved hospital systems and the absence of enemy artillery and airpower.

A significant number of those who do become casualties, including draftees, will be in Viet Nam because they volunteered. More than 4,000 men asked for Viet Nam assignments in the last reporting month.

About 300,000 men will be drafted into the Army under current plans for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967. And based on current strength requirements for Viet Nam, a Pentagon spokesman estimated one-third of the total will see service in the war zone.

Army officials are quick to add that any radical change in the Viet Nam situation could rapidly alter such figures but barring some unforeseen turn such as the entry of Communist China into the conflict, basic percentage figures are expected to remain about the same.

Army regulars stand a much better chance of staying out of the fighting zone. Over-all, only one out of seven Army men can expect to be sent to Viet Nam under current plans.

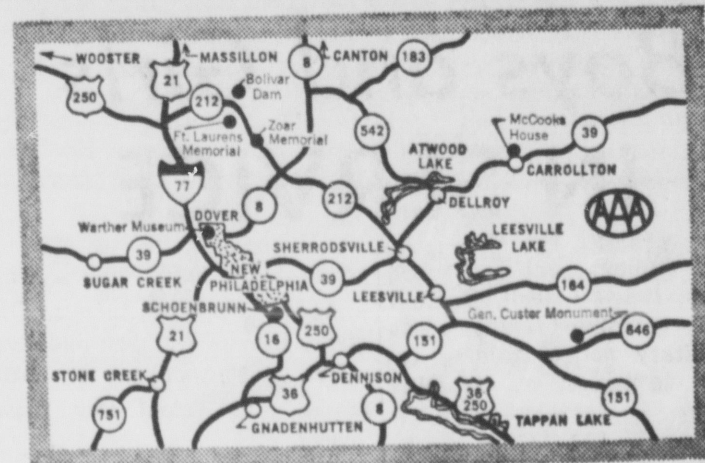

And what if a draftee is assigned to Viet Nam?

More than 45 per cent of the Army's present 155,000-man force in Viet Nam is classified as support personnel — everything from cooks, supply clerks and typists to helicopter mechanics and truck drivers. Almost one out of three is in the supply network.

A Pentagon spokesman said even men assigned to such combat-bloodied units as the 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division run an excellent chance of getting a job behind the lines. He said in the average 16,000-man division, about 6,000 to 7,000 men actually are caught up in day to day combat operations.

Looking at Ohio

Eastern Section of State Offers Historical Sites

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of tours of Ohio featuring the state's lakes and parks prepared for readers of The Herald by the Columbus Auto Club.

An area of eastern Ohio, including Atwood Lake, is the focal point for this tour.

Atwood Lake, 1,540 acres in size, covers parts of Carroll and Tuscarawas Counties and is reached by Route 212. Increasingly popular, it now has a new lodge and has facilities for meals and overnight accommodations. Water sports of all kinds may be enjoyed here.

There are many other points of interest for those wanting to make the trip educational as well as pleasant. To mention a few:

Zoar Memorial includes five houses of the German Pietistic sect which settled here in 1817. A museum is included.

Schoenbrunn, on Route 250 south of New Philadelphia, is a reconstruction of the first settlement in Ohio where Moravian Indians and missionaries lived together. Founded in 1772, it once included 60 log cabins and the first church a schoolhouse west of the Allegheny Mountains.

Gnadenhutten, on Route 36, was the site of a massacre of Moravian Indians in 1782 by armed forces under the leadership of Colonel Williamson. This community was the birthplace, on July 4, 1773, of John L. Roth, first white child born in what is now Ohio.

Fort Laurens Memorial, 82-acre tract just outside Bolivar, was the site of the only U. S.

military fort in Ohio during the Revolutionary War.

Reminders of the Civil War are the Custer Monument on Route 646 at New Rumley, marking the birthplace of the famous general and Indian fighter, and McCook House at Carrollton, home of the "Fighting McCooks", now a museum.

Other suggested places of interest are the Ernest Warther Museum on Route 39 at Dover, exhibiting hand-carved models of locomotives and other mechanical items, and Sugar Creek, home of the Swiss Cheese Festival to be held this year on September 30 and October 1. An all-Swiss festival is planned.

The Columbus Auto Club suggests this routing to the tour area: Route 22 through Lancaster into Zanesville and junction with Route 40 and I-70; Route 40 and I-70 to Route 21 and I-77; north on Route 21 and I-77 to junction with Route 36; northeast on Route 36 to junction with Route 250; north on Route 250 into New Philadelphia and on to Dover; Ohio Route 8 to junction Ohio 212; northwest on Ohio 212 to Bolivar and Zoar.

Heavy Rains Damage Some Crops in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture and its cooperating state agencies report that last week's heavy rains in Ohio limited field work to three days and caused considerable damage to crops in some areas.

The report said the north central and northwestern areas appear to have been hardest hit by the series of storms, while eastern areas received very little of the rain. More than a third of the reports now indicate surplus soil moisture supplies, and half of them report adequate rainfall. The balance, from eastern areas, indicate short moisture supplies.

The agency said many reports of flattened wheat were received, although yields have been very good.

At the same time, the hot weather and above normal rainfall pushed progress of most field crops to normal or near normal levels. The wheat harvest was delayed somewhat by the weather and a third of the crop is now combined, which is five days behind normal.

YELLOW TEETH
Q. Several years ago my two children were treated with an antibiotic which affected their teeth. The children are now 11 and 7 years old, respectively, and both have very yellow teeth. Can you suggest anything that would get rid of the color?
A. The staining of teeth is structural, and the discoloration can not be "bleached out." Consult your dentist. In some cases porcelain jacket crowns can be applied over the discolored teeth.

FOOD AND DREAMS
Q. Why do some foods like cheese make people dream?
A. So far as can be determined, there is no scientific evidence that cheese or any other food causes dreams.

OK Is Given To Aid for Ohio Youths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.
James A. Rhodes gave his approval Tuesday to a $554,735 federal grant to finance an 11-week summer work program for 1,060 underprivileged youths in the 14-26 age bracket, awarded to the Council for Economic Opportunities by the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

The program is designed to provide "meaningful work experience" for youths of both sexes to be selected from the five target areas at the inner city level.

The enrollees will include 600 between the ages of 14 and 16, and 460 in the 22-26 bracket. All the enrollees are ineligible for the Neighborhood Youth Corps program, said Albert G. Giles, director of the Ohio office.

The city of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County, Board of Education, Welfare Federation, neighborhood groups and suburban governmental units will provide stations for the low-income family enrollees. The program will expire Sept. 15.

The governor also approved a $57,579 federal grant allocated to the Community Action Committee of Knox, Coshocton and Holmes counties for the purpose of financing a 12-month dental care project for underprivileged school children in the first, second and 12th grades, designed to provide complete dental care for the low-income children.

Klan Rally Booked In Medina County

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A Ku Klux Klan rally has been scheduled for this weekend near here according to Klan organizer Parkie Scott of Oregon.

Scott, who says he is with the Ku Klux Klan Association of America, said Tuesday a two-day rally is planned in retaliation for alleged harassment by Medina County sheriff's deputies at similar gatherings here last weekend.

3,000 Aussies Ready To Tackle Cong

PHUOC TUY PROVINCE, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a rubber plantation southeast of Saigon—the exact spot still is secret—a 3,000-man Australian task force has set up camp.

The Australians have their own ideas how to fight the Viet Cong and they have the whole province of Phuoc Tuy to try them out.

Many of these men have fought and won a similar guerrilla war in the jungles and plantations of Malaya. About one-third are draftees, new to war like most of the Americans in Viet Nam.

Their mission—as described by their commander, Brig. Oliver David Jackson—is to break up, scatter and destroy the hardcore Viet Cong units in Phuoc Tuy Province; destroy the Viet Cong political apparatus; and then hunt down every Communist terrorist one by one.
Once an area has been freed of Communist domination, the Australians will help the Vietnamese protect it and resettle refugees into it.

It will be a big job.

"In the Malaya war we didn't worry about time," says Lt. Col.
John Arnold Warr. "This same attitude will be necessary in Viet Nam."

"We have to realize that it will take years to complete our mission and simply accept the fact and stay until it is done."

In making this comparison, Warr also recognizes differences in the Malaya and Vietnamese wars.

"The Chinese Communists in Malaya were much less active than the Viet Cong," he said.
"The Viet Cong is better armed, has greater dedication and discipline, and is operating in much larger units."

"Only after we have broken up the enemy regiments and battalions can we fight a Malay-an-type campaign."

Other advantages mentioned by Warr were better information about the enemy in Malaya and better links between the local government—then British —and the fighting units.

But Viet Nam has some advantages, too. All the Australian company commanders and most of the noncommissioned officers in Viet Nam took part in the Malayan campaign.

Many of these men say the weather and terrain in Phuoc Tuy Province are easier to cope with. It is not so hot and the jungle is not so thick.

Phuoc Tuy is a coastal province, a rough rectangle about 30 by 40 miles. It stretches from the South China Sea northeast of the Saigon River delta up to D Zone. Hundreds of trails wind through the province, offering routes for the Viet Cong from the ocean up to D Zone and Cambodia.

It is believed that two hard-core Viet Cong regiments—about 4,000 men—are based in the province in addition to hundreds of local guerrillas.
The majority of the 105,000 inhabitants have lived for years under Communist domination.

The province was the scene of one of the Viet Cong's most spectacular victories 18 months ago. Two government battalions were knocked out of action near the village of Binh Gia.

Since then Viet Cong forces have eluded both Vietnamese and American attempts to run them down. Large areas of the province became a free bombing zone. Planes and artillery

Workman, 33, Killed When Ditch Caves In struction accident resulted in were allowed to blast at will.

The cycle of Viet Cong takeovers and government counter-actions, of troop assaults and bombardments was too much for the farm people. They abandoned their farms, orchards and plantations. Thousands of refugees now crowd the provincial capital, Baria.

This is the situation confront-

Commandoes Fight Reds By Just Throwing Paper

NTA TRANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "We don't use guns against the enemy in this outfit," the operations officer observed with a smile. "We just throw papers at them and shout at them."

"Sometimes it works," said Lt. Col. Joseph Baier of McDonald, Pa. "We're getting better at it all the time."

Its mission is to persuade the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldier to give themselves up without a fight. Its principal weapons are leaflets and loudspeakers.

The squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Clyde C. Angley, uses four C47 twin-engine cargo planes and 16 of the new U10 light aircraft. This is a two-seat plane with a three-blade propeller and a high, long wing. It can take off and land in 300 feet. It has a loudspeaker amplifying system built in on one side.

The squadron is based in the central coastal city, but also operates out of Da Nang in the north, Pleiku in the Central Highlands and Bien Hoa near Saigon.

The squadron arrived last November and its planes, armed only with leaflets and tape recordings, have been hit 51 times. It has not lost any planes but two of its fliers have been wounded.

It flew 1,173 sorties in June, when it dropped 130 million leaflets and spent 575 hours in loudspeaker appeals.

How effective is this propaganda effort? The 5th Squadron has no big claims. But it can reasonably share part of the credit for the increasing number of Communists giving up the fight. Some of these carry surrender leaflets.

Last November, the squadron's first month of operation, 1,509 came over from the Communist side. The figure has risen to about 2,300 per month.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, has ordered his field commanders to step up their psychological effort.

The 5th Air Commando Squadron sends up U10s in the midst of combat operations. It took part, for example, in operation Nathan Hale during which U.S. paratroopers, air cavalrymen and Marines engaged a North Vietnamese regiment of army regulars in a jungled mountain area. The U10 planes followed closely after American air strikes and artillery barrages hit the entrenched North Vietnamese.

Capt. Donald Wakefield, from Waco, Texas, put in as many as four flights a day over enemy positions. In these flights of an hour to two hours each, he dropped surrender leaflets and swooped low to broadcast recorded appeals for the Communists to give up.

His broadcasts can be heard from 7,000 feet, but Wakefield usually drops to 2,000-3,000 to give the enemy a "maximum blast."

The U10 men make low-level flights over enemy positions at night to play what Wakefield calls "real scary music."

"We play a lot of eerie,

spooky noises," Wakefield remarked. "Even if they don't surrender, it keeps them up all night. And it makes them unhappy at the same time."

Still another mission involves leaflets urging villagers to turn in Viet Cong guerrillas who may be in their areas. These leaflets offer rewards for information.

A major theme of the leaflets is that the Viet Cong are losing. One leaflet, in Vietnamese, reads: "The Viet Cong and their clique cannot stay forever in this portion of Viet Nam. They have to face the heavy fire power of the allied forces. In addition, the Viet Nam armed forces have planes, modern artillery and other weapons. These forces will continue until the defeat will be the Viet Cong.

Actress Gets Movie Role With Plenty of 'Phlanh'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now it's goodbye, Dolly, and hello, Millie, for Carol Channing, who is bursting on the movie scene with plenty of phlanh.

That is the best spelling they provide for Miss Channing's word describing her entrance in "Thoroughly Modern Millie," the flapper-age musical which also stars Julie Andrews.

"I play the richest woman in America," Miss Channing recounted, "and I arrive on the scene with my latest hobby, an airplane. Beside me is my flight instructor, a slim, divine-looking fellow all in black and looking like a line of electric current."

To join the "Millie" troupe, the Broadway star had to seek a release from "Hello, Dolly," with which she has drawn several millions of dollars through the nation's box offices. The producer of the show is David Merrick, the so-called "abominable showman" who is not about to let his prize attraction escape without a price.

The price: Extension of her "Dolly" contract to June, 1967. "Oh, I just love Mr. Merrick he's so — well, so honest," she said. "When I asked where he would send me after the picture he said: 'Wherever the box office is sagging.'"

After her Broadway success in the revenue "Lend An Ear" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," she returned to co-star with Ginger Rogers in "The First Traveling Saleslady."

"We closed RKO with that one," Miss Channing said ruefully. "Our own title for it was 'Death of A Saleslady.' The picture was so disorganized that Ginger would come on the set and suggest, 'Why don't you say this and I'll say this' and that's how we did our dialogue."

Brazilian Economist To Get Latin Award

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Dr. Roberto de Oliveira Campos, Brazilian economist and diplomat, will receive the Theodore Brent Inter-American Award in October from International House.

The award is given annually to a Latin American who has made outstanding contributions to the social, economic or political relationships between Latin America and the United States.

backache

Now! You can often get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that may cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain you want relief — want it fast! Doan's Pills by their speedy pain-relieving action work promptly to ease torment of nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains.

Also, when mild bladder irritation follows unwise eating or drinking — often setting up a restless, uncomfortable feeling — Doan's Pills work in two ways for comforting relief: 1) their soothing effect on bladder irritation; 2) Doan's mild diuretic action through the kidneys tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

NTA TRANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "We don't use guns against the enemy in this outfit," the operations officer observed with a smile. "We just throw papers at them and shout at them."

"Sometimes it works," said Lt. Col. Joseph Baier of McDonald, Pa. "We're getting better at it all the time."

Baier's unit, the U.S. 5th Air Commando Squadron, devotes itself entirely to psychological warfare, known as psywar but called counter-insurgency warfare here.

Its mission is to persuade the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldier to give themselves up without a fight. Its principal weapons are leaflets and loudspeakers.

The squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Clyde C. Angley, uses four C47 twin-engine cargo planes and 16 of the new U10 light aircraft. This is a two-seat plane with a three-blade propeller and a high, long wing. It can take off and land in 300 feet. It has a loudspeaker amplifying system built in on one side.

The squadron is based in the central coastal city, but also operates out of Da Nang in the north, Pleiku in the Central Highlands and Bien Hoa near Saigon.

The squadron arrived last November and its planes, armed only with leaflets and tape recordings, have been hit 51 times. It has not lost any planes but two of its fliers have been wounded.

How effective is this propaganda effort?

The 5th Squadron has no big claims. But it can reasonably share part of the credit for the increasing number of Communists giving up the fight. Some of these carry surrender leaflets.

Last November, the squadron's first month of operation, 1,500 came over from the Communist side. The figure has risen to about 2,300 per month.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, has ordered his field commanders to step up their psychological effort.

The 5th Air Commando Squadron sends up U10s in the midst of combat operations. It took part, for example, in operation Nathan Hale during which U.S. paratroopers, air cavalrymen and Marines engaged a North Vietnamese regiment of army regulars in a jungled mountain area. The U10 planes followed closely after American air strikes and artillery barrages hit the entrenched North Vietnamese.

Capt. Donald Wakefield, from Waco, Texas, put in as many as four flights a day over enemy positions. In these flights of an hour to two hours each, he dropped surrender leaflets and swooped low to broadcast recorded appeals for the Communists to give up.

His broadcasts can be heard from 7,000 feet, but Wakefield usually drops to 2,000-3,000 to give the enemy a "maximum blast."

The U10 men make low-level flights over enemy positions at night to play what Wakefield calls "real scary music."

"We play a lot of eerie,

spooky noises," Wakefield remarked. "Even if they don't surrender, it keeps them up all night. And it makes them unhappy at the same time."

Another U10 mission involves dropping leaflets for several days prior to B52 bomber raids. These leaflets urge civilians to leave the target area before the bombers arrive.

Still another mission involves leaflets urging villagers to turn in Viet Cong guerrillas who may be in their areas. These leaflets offer rewards for information.

A major theme of the leaflets is that the Viet Cong are losing. One leaflet, in Vietnamese, reads: "The Viet Cong and their clique cannot stay forever in this portion of Viet Nam. They have to face the heavy fire power of the allied forces. In addition, the Viet Nam armed forces have planes, modern artillery and other weapons. These forces will continue until the defeat will be the Viet Cong.

Actress Gets Movie Role With Plenty of 'Phlanh'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now it's goodbye, Dolly, and hello, Millie, for Carol Channing, who is bursting on the movie scene with plenty of phlanh.

That is the best spelling they provide for Miss Channing's word describing her entrance in "Thoroughly Modern Millie," the flapper-age musical which also stars Julie Andrews.

"I play the richest woman in America," Miss Channing recounted, "and I arrive on the scene with my latest hobby, an airplane. Beside me is my flight instructor, a slim, divine-looking fellow all in black and looking like a line of electric current."

"I am all in white, wearing an aviator's suit of silk with ermine lapels and diamond buttons. There I stand, just loaded with phlanh."

To join the "Millie" troupe, the Broadway star had to seek a release from "Hello, Dolly," with which she has drawn several millions of dollars through the nation's box offices. The producer of the show is David Merrick, the so-called "abominable showman" who is not about to let his prize attraction escape without a price.

The price: Extension of her "Dolly" contract to June, 1967.

"Oh, I just love Mr. Merrick he's so — well, so honest," she said. "When I asked where he would send me after the picture he said: 'Wherever the box office is sagging.'"

"Thoroughly Modern Millie" is not really Miss Channing's movie debut. She recalled dimly that director William Dieterle gave her a screen test which resulted in only a one-line bit in a movie.

After her Broadway success in the revenue "Lend An Ear" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," she returned to co-star with Ginger Rogers in "The First Traveling Saleslady."

"We closed RKO with that one," Miss Channing said ruefully. "Our own title for it was 'Death of A Saleslady.' The picture was so disorganized that Ginger would come on the set and suggest, 'Why don't you say this and I'll say this' and that's how we did our dialogue."

Dodd Hearing Future Eyed

Publicist Ends
Long Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee indicated today its next round of hearings on misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd will deal with the Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., told a reporter he will announce the subject and the date for the hearings just as soon as he can. But he said he had no definite information at this time.

The bipartisan committee's first round of hearings, to explore Dodd's dealings with Julius Klein, owner of a Chicago public relations firm and a registered agent for West German business interests, ended late Tuesday.

Klein spent the day in the witness chair. On a key issue, he insisted he hadn't pressured Dodd in going to West Germany in 1964 to help Klein retain his clients there.

"I don't know a single United States senator who can be pressured," said Klein, who testified all his letters, memos and telephone calls to Dodd were just the exercise of his "God-given right" of petition.

Klein, a Republican, said he also had asked Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and other senators to speak to German government and industrial leaders in his behalf. Javits later told a reporter he had mentioned Klein in talks with former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and former Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano.

Javits said in both cases his discussions dealt with Klein's views on German reparations to Jewish victims of Nazi persecution. "I thought Klein's position reflected credit on him," Javits said.

Dodd, who stayed away from Tuesday's hearing, previously had sworn the purpose of his six-day trip to Germany was to investigate the Soviet error apparatus.

Klein said that when he learned Dodd was going, he encouraged him to make the trip and to counter "distortions" in the German press about a 1963 Senate Foreign Relations Committee probe of foreign agents.

However, he testified that not a single one of his West German clients who had canceled their contracts after the 1963 investigation had been "salvaged" as a result of Dodd's trip.

Part of Old Erie Canal May Be Used as Parks

CLEVELAND (AP)—A polluted remnant of Ohio's lustrous pioneer days may become the state's newest and largest national park.

Planners of the federal National Park Service are studying a proposal to convert a stretch of the old Ohio and Erie Canal from an abandoned and polluted relic into a modern monument to the days when barges carried commerce from Cleveland to Portsmouth.

The national park idea was advanced by U. S. Rep. Charles Vanik, a Cleveland Democrat. It has reached the point of study by national park experts.

Vanik envisions not one sprawling park, but a series of 20,000 separate recreation areas along a 35-mile stretch of the canal between Akron and Cleveland. Much of the land which might be converted to national park use is already owned by the state.

Some other sections have already been turned over to city or county governments for parks.

Other areas along the canal have been leased to steel mills and other industries which use the water in manufacturing.

Most of the 308-mile canal is dry now, but the section from the Akron area into Cleveland still has water flowing from the Cuyahoga River.

It is polluted, stagnant water, frothed with detergent suds like floating ice.

"Pollution is the first problem," Vanik said. "Can you imagine having a picnic by the canal or river now?"

But industries and cities are working to stop pollution of the Cuyahoga River and eventually make the canal water as fresh as it was in the middle 1800s when barges plied the route from Cleveland to Portsmouth in four days.

The first firm step toward restoration of the canal as a national park is to get a preliminary report from the federal Interior Department. Then legislation or federal administrative action would be needed — and the cooperation of the state, which owns much of the canal land.

State officials have not been formally contacted about the plans yet. But machinery exists for Ohio to convert idle canal lands into public recreational uses and Park Division Chief Melvin Rebholz said, "Any action along this line, whether local, state or federal, would certainly be most welcome."

He agreed with Vanik on the need for park facilities in the area of 2.25 million people.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall toured the canal with Vanik June 22 and pronounced it "a good candidate" for a national park.

Two planners, Andrew G. Feil of Philadelphia and Robert A.

Lobdell of Ann Arbor, Mich., followed June 30 with an inspection to study prospects for converting the canal from a dirty, weed-clogged eyesore into scenic recreation areas.

Some sections of the old canal already have been taken over by cities and counties for park uses. Stark County took the entire 27-mile portion of the canal through that area, under a law giving the Ohio Canal Land Authority the right to dispose of old canal lands.

At one time, Ohio owned 697 miles of canals, with more than a million acres of land. About a third of that has been sold to private interests or transferred to other governmental agencies, reported Charles C. Hall, head of the canal lands section in the Department of Public Works.

Another third has been leased to industries and the other third is still available. The state can sell the land if other public agencies don't want it.

The state still owns a lot of the land in rural areas along the Ohio canal in the area Vanik propposed for national parks, said Ted H. Findley of New Philadelphia, president of the Ohio Canal Society.

No estimates have been made of what it might cost to create a park along the canal, which cost $4.7 million to build.

It took two years for workmen, mostly Irish immigrants using picks and shovels, to dig the waterway after ground was first broken near Newark July 4, 1825. The canal formally opened in 1827, following the Cuyahoga River south from Lake Erie, then the Tuscarawas, Licking and Scioto Rivers to the Ohio River at Portsmouth.

Branches reached along the Muskingum River to Zanesville and Marietta, along the Hocking to Athens and up the Scioto to Columbus.

In an era when most travel was by foot or horseback, the canal opened Ohio to easy trade and commerce. In 25 years, the value of Ohio real estate increased from $9 million to $876 million. Population rose from 581,295 in 1820 to 1,519,467 in 1840.

It was a key link in water transportation stretching from the Atlantic Coast through the Great Lakes — via the famed Erie Canal — and on to New Orleans and the west — via the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

Another canal — the Miami and Erie — linked Toledo and Cincinnati through western Ohio.

In 1850, canal tolls in Cleveland totaled $90,874 and by 1903 canal receipts had totaled $156 million. But the arrival of the railroads spelled the end of the canal boom.

By 1907, only $21 was collected in canal tolls in Cleveland.

Six years later, gigantic floods on the Cuyahoga and other rivers washed out huge sections of the canal. The flood spelled an end to the canal.

Should Vanik's proposal become reality, the canal would be Ohio's third national park. The others are 67-acre Mound City, an Indian burial ground near Chillicothe, and 21-acre Perry Monument at Put-in-Bay.

Skelton Masks His Grief At Wounding of Wife

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — His rubbery face masking his grief, Red Skelton clowning before a delighted audience Tuesday night as his wife lay seriously wounded in a Las Vegas hospital from an apparently accidental gunshot.

Georgia Skelton, 44, was declared in satisfactory condition at Sunrise Hospital following treatment for a chest wound which was inflicted with a pistol early Tuesday morning.

The accident took place in the Skeltons' suite in the Sands Hotel as he was performing in the supper club below.

The shot was heard by the Skeltons' daughter Valentina, 19, and a college student friend, Art Coleman, 19, who were in another part of the suite. Coleman entered the bedroom to find Mrs. Skelton stretched on the bed, bleeding at the chest. "What happened? What did I do?" she was reported to have said.

Mrs. Skelton was rushed to the hospital where doctors determined the shot had penetrated no vital organs. After his performance, Skelton was told the news and he rushed tearfully to the hospital.

The Skeltons normally keep guns at their residences in case of burglary. The comedian explained: "Georgia and I had taken all our guns from the Bel ellite in less than one hour after launch, three hours sooner than any previous flight. Gordon is to become the fourth American to walk in space during the three-day mission.

Air House, but she brought one little pistol here.

"The pistol had no ammunition and she wanted to get some. She said she felt much safer to have the gun loaded. So just last Saturday we went to a store and bought some bullets for it."

The gun was a 38-calibre pistol which Skelton said was on the bedside table. He theorized that his wife may have brushed against the gun while reaching for a dressing robe.

Skelton's engagement ends next Tuesday and he said he would fly his wife back to Los Angeles in a private jet.

Part of Old Erie Canal May Be Used as Parks

CLEVELAND (AP)—A polluted remnant of Ohio's lusty pioneer days may become the state's newest and largest national park.

Planners of the federal National Park Service are studying a proposal to convert a stretch of the old Ohio and Erie Canal from an abandoned and polluted relic into a modern monument to the days when barges carried commerce from Cleveland to Portsmouth.

Coca Cola, Purina Win Little League Major Tilts

The Coca-Cola Jets knocked off The Herald Hawks, 15-4, and Purina topped the American Legion, 8-5, Tuesday in the Major division of the Little League.

The win by the Jets moves them farther out in front of the loop. They have nine wins and two losses while The Hawks and Bingman Drugs in second own 7-4 slates. American Legion is 5-6.

Rich Speakman went the distance for the Jets. He allowed one base on balls, struck out seven and scattered four hits.

J. Payne started on the mound for The Hawks and lasted through two. Jim Neal hurled the third frame, giving up eight runs and taking the loss. Dave Trux came on and finished. Together the trio gave up 20 hits.

STEVE DAVIS proved the big punch for the winners, clouting a triple and two doubles. Greg Heiskell and Dave Gillis added doubles for the Jets.

Payne managed the only extra baser for the Hawks, a double.

For Purina Alan Hawks went all six frames, allowing the Legion only four hits.

Stoutsville Unit Holds Lead in Tri-County Loop

Stoutsville defeated Amanda, 8-4, to protect its first place position in the Tri-County Little League with an 11-1 record.

Amanda has an 8-4 record and shares third place with Laurelville Merchants, just behind Washington with a 10-2 record.

Steve Ratcliff and Roy Good were the pitchers for Stoutsville. They walked two, and fanned nine.

Bob Knotts went the route for Amanda, walking six, fanning four and allowing eight hits. Donnie Hickman and Dave Kraft hit doubles for the losers. Scott Kuhl blasted a home-run for Stoutsville.

the Legion. He gave up two hits and five runs with two out in the first and had to be relieved by Kent Wolfe, who finished. Together they allowed seven hits.

Tom Taylor tagged a triple for Purina's only extra baser. For the Legion Wolfe cracked a double.

Golfer Hits Hole-in-One At Lansdowne

Mike Seymour of Ashville hit a hole-in-one Tuesday on the eighth hole at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links.

Mike had planned to use a strong five-iron on the 190-yard par-three hole. But his playing partner, Claude Kraft suggested he ease a three-iron up to the pin. Mike took his advice and scored his first ace.

Seymour finished the nine holes with a best ever 40. The ball he used on No. 8 will be mounted as a trophy, Don Collins, owner-manager of Upper Lansdowne reported.

Seymour's single stroke effort was the second on the No. 8 hole at the Walnut Twp. golf course and the third ever accomplished there.

Pat Rooney had previously ached the No. 8 hole. Mark Leatherwood carded a hole-in-one on the par 3 No. 5.

Scioto Downs Driver Chalks 26th Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sugar Road gave driver Ervin Samples his 26th victory of the year Tuesday night at Scioto Downs raceway, winning the featured handicap pace in 2:08 1-5.

The 4-year-old mare, owned by Kenneth Richardson, came from behind to win by a length and paid backers $4.20, $3.20 and $2.40. Lee's Captain returned $8.80 and $3.40 to place and Thaddeus, $2.80 to show.

Debbie Shea Wins Junior Olympic Test

Debbie Shea placed first in her age group in the 200-yard breaststroke at the Central Ohio Junior Olympic swim meet Tuesday held at the Sunshine Pool, Columbus.

Miss Shea's effort of 2:59.5 boosted Circleville's team total to 13 1/2 points. The Buckeye Blue Dolphins are leading with 338 points. The local swimmers are in 11th place.

Eric Fortell placed fourth in the 50-yard breaststroke for boys 11 and 12. Andy Rhoads placed fourth in the same event for boys 10 and under.

Altogether for the two days Circleville has compiled one first, Miss Shea; one third, Craig Dresbach; two fourths, Fortell and Rhoads; one fifth, Beezie Anderson; and one alternate, Ann Guenther.

It was the second straight year Miss Shea has won a gold medal at the meet. Last year she placed first in the 100-yard breaststroke for girls 13 and 14.

Thursday the local swimmers travel to Grove City for a league match. Friday they will go to Delaware and the Delaware Invitational.

Bankers Win Hitting Battle With Oilers

The First National Bank downed Circleville Oil, 20-12, in a Little League Minors hitting battle Tuesday at Ted Lewis Park.

The winning Bankers collected 19 hits off Circleville Oil hurler Chris Payne, including three triples and four doubles.

Jerry Johnson, John Gillian and J. Ramsey all hit triples for the winners. Doubles were cracked by Mike Gillian, Tim Brown, John Ankran and D. Speakman.

The Oilers banged 14 hits, including a triple by Chris Payne and a double by Steve Watters.

Mike Gillian and Tim Brown teamed up on the mound for First National Bank. Payne went all the way in absorbing the loss.

Top Pros Have Axes To Grind in PGA

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The PGA's golden anniversary tournament begins Thursday with the game's top stars harboring various reasons for wanting to win the final major championship of 1966.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Billy Casper,

Doug Sanders and Dave Marr are among those who have an ax to grind in the 72-hole battle across the vast field of the Firestone Country Club which measures 7,180 yards and carries a challenging par of 35-35-70.

Nicklaus is gunning for a three-quarter slam. If he tacks the PGA to his Master's and British Open victories, he'll be come the first player to win three major titles in one year since Ben Hogan won the Masters, the British, the U.S. Open and then didn't compete in the 1953 PGA.

Palmer is still somewhat shocked from his big blowup loss to Casper in this year's Open and a triumph this week would tilt Arnie's somewhat tarnished image.

Player, the 1965 golfer of the year, has virtually done nothing this year in the way of winning. The diminutive South African was one of the first pros to appear at Firestone and has been practicing diligently since last Friday in an effort to shape up his game.

Casper has been the steadiest golfer on tour this year, and "Buffalo Bill" could all but wrap up 1966 honors by stringing the PGA title to his recent U.S. Open and Western Open triumphs.

Sanders usually is in the running, but the quick-witted sport with the flashy outfits never has won a major championship, although he came close in the British Open when he finished two strokes behind Nicklaus.

However, Doug's record at Firestone is not an enviable one. He finished in a tie for third in the 1960 PGA and in five American classics his best showing was a tie for ninth last year.

Marr's story has become a bad one, in that he has been completely overlooked despite the fact he is defending the title he won at Ligonier last year.

Marr takes his role of the forgotten man philosophically, saying, "The guy who wins only three of 90 tournaments should be forgotten." Dave hasn't won a thing since the 1965 PGA, but he has been among the top 10 in seven tournaments this year and remains a title threat.

The tournament winds up Sunday. In case of a tie, there will be an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Pavletich's HR Aids Reds In 18th

CHICAGO (AP) — Winning in extra innings really gives baseball players a lift, in Don Pavletich's opinion.

Pavletich had a lot to do with the Cincinnati Reds' 3-2 victory over Chicago Tuesday in a game that took 18 innings. He hit the home run that decided the contest.

"I think this picks up the team quite a bit winning this way," the Cincinnati catcher said afterwards. "It's better for a club to win this way, I think, than to go out and beat someone, 9-0."

Pavletich said the ball he hit over the left field catwalk was a slider "out over the plate and a little lower than waist high."

It was the Reds' first hit since the ninth inning when Tommy Harper led off with a single and the trying run scored two outs later on Gordy Coleman's double off the center field fence.

Starter Jim Maloney forced in the Cubs' first run in the third with a bases-loaded walk.

The victory went to Joe Nuxhall, now 2-2, who worked the last three innings.

Women's Amateur Champion Upset

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Bobby Jo Gabrielson, 19, daughter of a veteran University of Georgia swimming coach, was poised to make quite a splash today in the 66th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Five-foot-two with eyes of blue, Bobby Jo started ripples Tuesday when she scored a first-round 2-1 upset of Curtis Copper Jean Ashley, last year's U.S. Amateur champion.

The match play competition at Barrington Hills Country Club's rolling par 76 course moved into the second round with eight matches.

Pickaway Dairy Trips Lumbermen In 27-23 Game

In the lone Mosquito League game played in the Circleville Youth Baseball Program Tuesday, Pickaway Dairy defeated Circleville Lumber, 27-23.

Mike Peters was the winning pitcher. He also placed his team at bat, hitting two doubles and a homerun. Jeff Keener and Sam Webb also had two doubles each for the winners.

For Circleville Lumber, Ty Burns had the only extra base hit, a triple.

Tony Blankenship was the losing pitcher. Bob Kisor and Ken Williams worked in relief.

Harness Races Scheduled at Pickaway Fair

Two days of harness racing have been scheduled Aug. 23 for the Pickaway County Fair by the speed committee.

The overnight races will be governed by the rules of the United States Trotting Assn., race secretary John Fissell announced.

A two per cent entry fee is required by 10:30 a. m. the day before the race, at which time post positions will be drawn.

Three races, two heats each, have been scheduled both days. The purses are $500 for each race.

Former school teacher Rives McBee of Midland, Tex., formerly caddied for Billy Maxwell, Don January and Joe Conrad. McBee shot a 64 in the second round of the 1966 U. S. Open to tie the tournament record for one round.

Even Oriole Pitcher Gets A Home Run

Detroit Is Routed By 19 Hits as Watt Yields 8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There isn't much the American League can do about Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary, Russ Snyder and the rest of Baltimore's slugging Orioles. But at least Eddie Watt is out of the way.

Watt admitted he wasn't ready to join the Orioles' slugging society quite yet Tuesday even though he walloped his first major league home run while pitching Baltimore to a 13-3 rout over Detroit.

"I hit one a year," Watt said after the game. "The pitch was in the one spot where I could hit it out."

Watt's first major league homer was the fourth of the night for the Orioles, who pounded four Detroit pitchers for 19 hits. Those conventional sluggers, Frank Robinson and Blefary, whacked the first three with Robinson's 24th and 25th driving in five runs.

The rout stretched Baltimore's first-place bulge over the Tigers to 9½ games.

Watt, a rookie reliever, went the distance in his second start of the season, scattering eight hits. He struck out seven and raised his record to 7-1.

Both Brooks and Frank Robinson ripped three hits apiece and Snyder, the American League's leading hitter, stroked two hits and raised his average to .336.

In the only other American League games played Tuesday, Minnesota swept a doubleheader 5-4 and 4-0 from Washington and Chicago edged Cleveland 5-4. Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed by rain.

In the National League, Cincinnati went 18 innings before nipping Chicago 3-2 in the longest game played this year. Houston downed Philadelphia 8-2 and St. Louis topped Atlanta 10-9 in 12 innings.

The other NL clubs were not scheduled. Robinson's first home run of the night was a three-run shot in the first inning as the Orioles hopped on Detroit starter Earl Wilson. He hammered No. 25 in the fourth inning after Watt had singled.

Blefary and Watt homered in the sixth against Johnny Podres.

Win Hurdled By Congrove

Verdict Gives GE Lead in Babe Ruth

Rick Congrove hurled a 3-hit, 6-1 win for General Electric over Lindsey Bakery in the Babe Ruth League play Tuesday at Ted Lewis Park.

The game was called at the end of five innings because of the time limit on the main diamond.

Congrove fanned six and walked seven in five innings. Don Cordle was tagged with the loss. He walked five, whiffed nine and allowed six hits, including a triple by George Griebel and a double by Terry Martin.

The Electricians scored one run in the first, added another in the second, two in the third and one each in the fourth and fifth innings.

LINDSEY'S run came in the bottom half of the second inning.

GE has an 8-1 record and holds a half-game lead in the Babe Ruth League. It was the sixth loss in eight starts for the Bakers.

Du Pont Tops Bank Team

A 13-run third inning propelled Du Pont to a 23-8 decision over the Savings Bank Tuesday in Pony League play.

The winning baseballers coupled 16 hits with 12 walks to gain their second victory against seven defeats in league play.

Richard Radcliff and Doyle Kiser shared pitching chores for Du Pont.

Radcliff started and was the winning hurler. He walked four and fanned seven. Kiser walked four and whiffed three.

FOR THE Savings Bank, David Dresbach, the losing hurler, along with Rickey Jacobs and Harold Smith worked on the mound. They struck out seven.

The Bankers have a 2-6 record for the season.

Bill Keener slammed a home run for Du Pont. Mark Lutz blasted two triples.

The only extra base hit for the Bankers was a triple by Billy Thomas.

Jackson Given New Incentive

Phillies Pitcher Was Ready To Quit

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Larry Jackson is laughing now. But two months ago he was ready to quit baseball.

The 34-year-old right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies hurled his second straight five-hit shutout Monday night as he beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

A new world, however, has opened for the 6-foot-2 veteran, who never before pitched for a pennant contender. He no longer even thinks of retiring let alone talk about it. Jackson thinks now only of a possible World Series share.

His win over the Dodgers and Sandy Koufax Monday was his eighth in his last 10 starts and ninth for the season against seven defeats. He walked only one and struck out four.

Jackson won 24 games for the Chicago Cubs two years ago, 14 last season, but he was fed up pitching for a lose and had serious thoughts of quitting the game.

"I never told anybody but my wife," he confided. "I didn't want it to be a shock to her if I did it."

Asked why he would even think of quitting at the peak of his fine career, Jackson said that in 1965, when he lost 21 games for the Cubs he began thinking of himself, instead of the club.

"That's no good. You get to the point where after a bad game you think 'why worry,' I'll get 'em next time. You lose self pride, then self respect as a pitcher."

He lost his first two games with the Cubs. Then, came that day in April when Manager Leo Durocher called him in and said he had been traded to the Phillies. This was the beginning of his new world.

He explained that coming to the Phillies gave him the one thing every pitcher needs, especially when you reach the baseball age of 34—"incentive."

When Rives McBee of Midland, Tex., shot a record tying 64 in the second round of this year's U. S. Open he made 26 putts for the 18 holes. He had 11 one-putt greens and one three-putt green.

Even Oriole Pitcher Gets A Home Run

Detroit Is Routed By 19 Hits as Watt Yields 8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There isn't much the American League can do about Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary, Russ Snyder and the rest of Baltimore's slugging Orioles. But at least Eddie Watt is out of the way.

Watt admitted he wasn't ready to join the Orioles' slugging society quite yet Tuesday even though he walloped his first major league home run while pitching Baltimore to a 13-3 rout over Detroit.

"I hit one a year," Watt said after the game. "The pitch was in the one spot where I could hit it out."

Watt's first major league homer was the fourth of the night for the Orioles, who pounded four Detroit pitchers for 19 hits. Those conventional sluggers, Frank Robinson and Blefary, whacked the first three with Robinson's 24th and 25th driving in five runs.

The rout stretched Baltimore's first-place bulge over the Tigers to 9½ games.

Watt, a rookie reliever, went the distance in his second start of the season, scattering eight hits. He struck out seven and raised his record to 7-1.

Both Brooks and Frank Robinson ripped three hits apiece and Snyder, the American League's leading hitter, stroked two hits and raised his average to .336.

In the only other American League games played Tuesday, Minnesota swept a doubleheader 5-4 and 4-0 from Washington and Chicago edged Cleveland 5-4. Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed by rain.

In the National League, Cincinnati went 18 innings before nipping Chicago 3-2 in the longest game played this year. Houston downed Philadelphia 8-2 and St. Louis topped Atlanta 10-9 in 12 innings.

The other NL clubs were not scheduled.

Robinson's first home run of the night was a three-run shot in the first inning as the Orioles hopped on Detroit starter Earl Wilson. He hammered No. 25 in the fourth inning after Watt had singled.

Blefary and Watt homered in the sixth against Johnny Podres.

Win Hurlled By Congrove

Verdict Gives GE Lead in Babe Ruth

Rick Congrove hurled a 3-hit, 6-1 win for General Electric over Lindsey Bakery in the Babe Ruth League play Tuesday at Ted Lewis Park.

The game was called at the end of five innings because of the time limit on the main diamond.

Congrove fanned six and walked seven in five innings. Don Cordie was tagged with the loss. He walked five, whiffed nine and allowed six hits, including a triple by George Griebel and a double by Terry Martin.

The Electricians scored one run in the first, added another in the second, two in the third and one each in the fourth and fifth innings.

LINDSEY'S run came in the bottom half of the second inning.

GE has an 8-1 record and holds a half-game lead in the Babe Ruth League. It was the sixth loss in eight starts for the Bakers.

Du Pont Tops Bank Team

A 13-run third inning propelled Du Pont to a 23-8 decision over the Savings Bank Tuesday in Pony League play.

The winning basebatters coupled 16 hits with 12 walks to gain their second victory against seven defeats in league play.

Richard Radcliff and Doyle Kiser shared pitching chores for Du Pont.

Radcliff started and was the winning hurler. He walked four and fanned seven. Kiser walked four and whiffed three.

FOR THE Savings Bank, David Dresbach, the losing hurler, along with Rickey Jacobs and Harold Smith worked on the mound. They struck out seven.

The Bankers have a 2-6 record for the season.

Bill Keener slammed a home run for Du Pont. Mark Lutz blasted two triples.

The only extra base hit for the Bankers was a triple by Billy Thomas.

Jackson Given New Incentive

Phillies Pitcher Was Ready To Quit

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Larry Jackson is laughing now. But two months ago he was ready to quit baseball.

The 34-year-old right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies hurled his second straight five-hit shutout Monday night as he beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

A new world, however, has opened for the 6-foot-2 veteran, who never before pitched for a pennant contender. He no longer even thinks of retiring let alone talk about it. Jackson thinks now only of a possible World Series share.

His win over the Dodgers and Sandy Koufax Monday was his eighth in his last 10 starts and ninth for the season against seven defeats. He walked only one and struck out four.

Jackson won 24 games for the Chicago Cubs two years ago, 14 last season, but he was fed up pitching for a lose and had serious thoughts of quitting the game.

"I never told anybody but my wife," he confided. "I didn't want it to be a shock to her if I did it."

Asked why he would even think of quitting at the peak of his fine career, Jackson said that in 1965, when he lost 21 games for the Cubs he began thinking of himself, instead of the club.

"That's no good. You get to the point where after a bad game you think 'why worry, I'll get 'em next time. You lose self pride, then self respect as a pitcher.'"

He lost his first two games with the Cubs. Then, came that day in April when Manager Leo Durocher called him in and said he had been traded to the Phillies. This was the beginning of his new world.

He explained that coming to the Phillies gave him the one thing every pitcher needs, especially when you reach the baseball age of 34—"incentive."

When Rives McBee of Midland, Tex., shot a record tying 64 in the second round of this year's U. S. Open he made 26 putts for the 18 holes. He had 11 one-putt greens and one three-putt green.

New Site Offered For Drive-Up Box

A solution apparently has been reached concerning location of the Post Office drive-up mail box.

According to notification from Postmaster Charles Walters, the box could be placed in the alley immediately north of the Post Office, on government owned property. The facility currently is situated on S. Court St. in front of the Post Office.

Location of the outside depository has created a long brewing controversy. Many feel the present site is inconvenient to motorist patrons. City officials contended the box created a traffic problem in connection with the nearby crosswalk.

Walters said the box can be moved to the new location, providing the city will restrict the alley to one-way traffic. Police Chief Robert Temple said steps to do this have already been undertaken.

ACCORDING to present plans, traffic flow would be from east to west. This would allow deposit of mail from the driver's side of the vehicle, a convenience not enjoyed at the present location.

Postmaster Walters said today planning for the new location is still under study. An exact date when the move will be made has not been determined. He also noted that the driveway immediately to the rear of the Post Office definitely will not be used as an approach if the new site becomes a reality.

Councilmen said if the alley is restricted to oneway traffic, signs denoting right turns only onto Court St. should be erected.

In other business, council promised full cooperation in answer to a request for assistance in establishing an improvement program for the Lowery Lane area.

The plea for city aid was sounded by Mrs. Proctor Baughman of S. Washington St. She has been working with a group devoted to bringing about better conditions in the neighborhood.

The city fathers indicated the request would be brought to the attention of appropriate council committees.

In the way of communications, a letter from the Cincinnati Workhouse explained that rates for housing local prisoners committed there have been increased from $2.50 to $3 per day. The solons were told an original ordinance authorizing a contract with the penal facility should be amended in order to comply with the new cost provisions.

Spaceman Set To Take Stroll

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Gemini 10 pilot Michael Collins was flashed an "all clear" today to stroll into space on a 50-foot lifeline and work with a "dead bird" target satellite left over from last March.

Using fuel from their own Agena space engine to make up some of the shortage on Gemini 10, command pilot John W. Young and Collins sped toward their distant target, expecting to catch up with it and begin Collins' space stroll at 5:56 p.m. (EST).

Space officials apparently decided the pungent gas that caused the Gemini twins' eyes to water during a 45-minute space stand Tuesday could be controlled.

The crew awoke about 8 a. m. after nine hours of sleep.

Young, a Navy commander, and Collins, an Air Force major, were told to use a secondary propulsion system in their Agena to change their orbital plane and adjust their height so they could jockey into a position to rendezvous with the old satellite.

Flight officials on the ground continued studying the problems of low fuel and smarting eyes as the astronauts spun 240 miles above the earth.

The eyes of both astronauts watered and became irritated Tuesday while Collins conducted experiments with the hatch open, the upper half of his body thrust into space.

Neither could see, and Collins was forced to end the exercise after 45 minutes, about 25 minutes early.

Lithium hydroxide, a chemical used to remove carbon dioxide from the cabin environmental control system, may have been responsible.

The problem cleared by the time the astronauts went to sleep at 11 p.m. EST but officials were concerned that perhaps it would recur when the hatch again was opened for the space walk.

If all goes well today, the astronauts were to break off from the Agena about 2 p.m. and start closing in on another Agena left in orbit last March by the Gemini 8 astronauts.

Hitchhiking under the power of their own Agena, the Gemini 10 crew had first soared to a record altitude for manned flight at an orbital high point of 476 miles, then pulled back down close to 240 miles, just seven miles below the path of the old Agena.

They are to rendezvous within a few feet of Agena 8 around 5 p.m., and Collins is to step outside about an hour later. He'll use a gas-powered hand gun to propel himself Buck Rogers-style over to Agena 8 to conduct experiments.

'Man, Ain't This Great?' Says Cleveland Looter

EDITOR'S NOTE — Associated Press newsman Austin Scott spent Tuesday night touring Cleveland's riotous Hough area on foot, mingling with the crowds of Negroes roaming the streets for an intimate look at their view of the violence. Here is his account of one incident

By AUSTIN SCOTT

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—"You know," said a man at my elbow, "I bet this riot is the first time in a long while that some people have had enough to eat."

As he spoke, a dozen young Negroes, many in their early teens, were struggling to twist the metal grating from the door of a food store, a dingy building in the Hough Negro slum. Rioters had smashed a window in the one-story brick building the night before, and the plywood panels that had taken their places provided good cover for those bent on looting.

After a brief struggle, the metal grating gave way. The young Negroes shoved the door open and rushed inside, cheered on by a crowd of perhaps two-dozen neighborhood residents behind a line of cars across the street.

They stopped first at the check-out counters to grab shopping bags, then ranged quickly up and down the aisles, loading their arms with canned and baked goods, paper products and household accessories. As each bag filled, it was brought across the street and placed on the ground behind the line of parked cars. In less than three minutes the number of bags had grown to more than a dozen.

"Get some of them cans of beer," a woman shouted to a youth who looked to be about 15.

A man in his 30s sporting a bright red shirt smiled and commented, "Man, ain't this great?"

The line of shopping bags kept growing. A man in his 20s stuffed the rear seat of his car full of looted merchandise. Another piled bag after bag on an overloaded shopping cart. Children shouted with excitement as the looters ventured farther and farther toward the back of the store.

"Don't y'all get too far back," a teen-age girl yelled, "That's the way the cops catch you."

Almost all of the spectators were smiling with approval, enjoying the spectacle, when a siren suddenly shrieked nearby and two police cars roared around the corner. Instantly the looters scattered, but many weren't fast enough.

One policeman grabbed his gun, headed straight for the store door and trapped five looters inside. Another leveled his revolver at a fleeing man in his early 20s, who ran the other way only to discover a rifle barrel poking into his stomach.

The spectators scattered too, leaving in such haste that they knocked over several of the shopping bags, spilling the contents.

"They got my sister," said one girl who looked to be no older than 14. "My sister is in there. I told her not to go out, but she went anyway. I wonder what they'll do to her?"

LET'S MAKE YOUR HOME look like a million

New Dean & Barry house paint with Poly-Lin looks smoother, looks glossier, looks better longer! And this means the most beautiful paint job you've ever seen, the most durable paint job your dollars can buy.

Here's why: Poly-Lin is the 100% pure polymerized linseed oil that gives Dean & Barry house paint extra smoothness, extra gloss, extra strength and toughness all the way through. No thinned-out places to prematurely weather and wear. No unsightly brush marks to spoil appearance. Dust and dirt wash off easily from the smooth, higher gloss finish. Paint jobs look better, last much longer to save important dollars for you.

No extra cost—meaning you benefit, too, because you pay nothing extra for the superior beauty and durability the new Poly-Lin blend gives. So why pay more—why take less? See us today, or have your painter-decorator come in.
